Heaviest Raids of War Made on Dutch New Guinea

Japanese Fuel Center Blasted By Yank Fliers

Six Coastal Ships Reported Destroyed

By CHARLES McMURTRY

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Tuesday April 18 (AP) — One of the heaviest bombing raids yet centered on Hollandia, Dutch New Guinea, was staged Sunday when bombers and fighters of the Fifth army air force left great columns of smoke rising from Japanese fuel supply dumps.

All details of the raid were not available today and Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communique did not mention the number of tons of explosives which shattered this frequently-blasted shipping and air base. First reports said the tonnage was more than 200, but headquarters officers expected a much larger figure when final reports are received.

Only Light Resistance

None of the Allied raiders met aerial interference, and only light antiaircraft fire was reported over the base, which a few weeks ago, at the beginning of heavy aerial strikes against it, was hotly defended by the Japanese air force.

Nine storage dumps, barracks, jetties and a small coastal vessel were left aflame in the Sunday raid.

Six Ships Destroyed

Allied airmen destroyed a total of six enemy coastal vessel and damaged at least three off Timor, in the Dutch East Indies; New Guinea and New Ireland. Straffing fighters destroyed three luggers and damaged two more near Roti island, southwest of Timor, after Mitchell medium bombers had dumped twenty-three tons of explosives on enemy installations at Koepang, Timor.

Air patrols destroyed one of three luggers caught at Vanimo and another near Aitape, on the New Guinea coast.

Patrolling Liberator heavy bombers from Solomons islands bases hit the Japanese base at Truk, in the Caroline islands, Saturday and Sunday nights, causing fires and explosions in the warehouse area on Dublon island in the atoll.

Republicans Protest Appointee to Bench Staying in Congress

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—Senate Republican leaders made known today they are considering a formal protest against any plan by Senator Bone (D-Wash) to serve out his legislative term before taking office as a federal judge.

Reports that Bone might retain his seat until January, thus blocking appointment of a successor by Republican Gov. Langlie of Washington, circulated on Capitol Hill. Bone himself has said he intended to stay until he winds up some affairs and that he didn't know how long that would take, but he has never said that he is not going to resign within a reasonable time.

Frozen Fish Prices Ordered Reduced

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—New England species of frozen fish, as well as frozen halibut landed in Canada and Alaska for importation to this country, will cost seven to eight cents a pound less at retail beginning Saturday, the Office of Price Administration announced today.

At processor levels, current prices will be reduced about twenty per cent, the agency said.

Bomerang Comes Home:

Veteran of 53 Combat Missions Blows Tire in Landing at Miami

MIAMI, Fla., April 17 (AP) — Patched with iron parts from an old English stove, tin from an oil can, and several parts salvaged from wrecked planes, the Bomerang, a B-24 Liberator bomber, arrived home from the wars today with two members of its original ground crew aboard.

The plane, which nearly wound up on the scrap pile after its first mission over Lille, France, in October, 1942, came home with a bang when the right tire blew out as the plane taxied to a halt at the army air base here.

The Bomerang is a veteran of fifty-three combat missions in Africa, Italy and the European theater, and its guns have shot down twelve enemy planes.

The most exciting incident in the career of the bomber, says Sgt. Charles A. Chambers of Mechanicsburg, Pa., and Sgt. George C. Ewald of Norfolk, Va., original ground crew members was the time the plane was condemned when it returned badly damaged from the first Liberator raid over Lille.

"We were given three weeks to try to put the Bomerang into the air," Sgt. Chambers related. "The crew worked night and day, used salvaged parts from wrecked planes—and six days later the Bomerang took off on her second mission."

"When supplies were scarce we just improvised. Once we fitted a piece of plating from an English stove in the wing and once we used a part of an oil can to make repairs," Sgt. Chambers said.

The Bomerang got its name when a woman painter mis-spelled "Boomerang", but its crew has always called it by its intended name.

Others who arrived home on the Bomerang included: Lt. George Everhart, Marysville, Tenn., and Sgt. Enos H. Lee, Jarrettsville, Md.

Jap Invasion Force in India Is Thrown Back

Hard Blows Struck By British Troops

KANDY, CEYLON, April 17 (AP)—Japanese invasion forces that cut the important Allied supply road between Kohima and Dimapur in Eastern India last week have been thrown from important positions and dealt "very heavy" losses by counterattacking British and Indian troops, an Allied communique announced today.

(A dispatch to the Indian observer in New Delhi reported that Allied tanks and infantry had cleared Japanese road blocks four miles north of Kohima in heavy fighting. It estimated that Allied forces in the Kohima area had a 5-to-1 superiority over the Japanese in artillery.)

Kohima is sixty miles north of the principal Allied base at Imphal. It is connected by a winding thirty-five-mile highway with Dimapur, a station on the American-operated Bengal-Assam railway, main supply line for all Allied forces in Eastern India and Northern Burma.

Since the middle of last week the Allied defenders of Kohima have been on the offensive, trying to wipe out road blocks established by the Japanese at points where the highway passes through the 5,000-foot Naga hills north and northwest of Kohima.

Today's communique from Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten's new headquarters here also listed other blows struck at the invaders at several points where they are attempting to thrust into the rich Imphal plain, which is ringed with Allied strongpoints.

OWI Plans To Build $1,000,000 Radio Station

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP) — The Office of War Information is building in Southern California a $1,000,000 short wave radio transmitter which officials describe as "perhaps the most powerful station beamed into the Pacific by any belligerent."

OWI disclosed the project today in stating that the facility will be erected and operated by Columbia Broadcasting System for OWI and the co-ordinator of inter-American affairs.

Stimson Replies To Criticism of Army Draft Plan

Defends Method Of Calling Men

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP) — Secretary of War Stimson, said tonight the army's requisitions for men have been consistent with the job it has to do, in replying to "implied criticism" of Selective Service uncertainties.

Stimson, commenting in a statement on the army's changing manpower requirements, said that the method of calling men into the service is such that a complicated estimate of needed manpower, based on only one certain figure, must stand up after a time lag of seven months.

Stimson Gives Figures

Yet despite this lag, he said, the average error between estimates and actual strength of the army was only two per cent.

"While a variation of 100,000 between estimated and subsequent actual strength appears very large in a newspaper headline, it is less than two per cent of the total strength of the army," he said.

Under the circumstances, two per cent is not an unreasonable margin for error in estimates."

The secretary added that one basic fact must be considered in connection with the continued emphasis on the need for men under twenty-six.

750,000 Needed by Army

"During the remainder of this year the army will need a probable minimum of 750,000 men to maintain its strength. (Now over 7,000,000 men). This leads us to one compelling conclusion.

"In solving our manpower problem, the first demand is that we obtain for physical contact with

New Headaches For Der Fuehrer

Mitchell Bombers Get Heavier Guns

KANSAS CITY, April 17 (AP)—Ten new headaches for Hitler in the form of fifty calibre machine guns have been added to the new model Billy Mitchell bombers, already in production in California, and today the makers, the North American Aviation, Inc., claimed the ship now is the heaviest armed one in the world.

The addition brings to fourteen the number of fifty-calibre guns the bomber carriers in addition to a 75-millimeter cannon. Two new guns are mounted in the tail between twin rudders, the company said.

The company also told of another new model B-25, being made at the Kansas plant, which has stepped up its fire power to twelve fifty Calibre machine guns, which doubles its armament.

The top turrets of both models have been moved forward and give the gunner a wide swing at targets so that he can cover anti-aircraft emplacements on a low bombing run or train his guns on planes approaching from overhead, behind and above or from the sides.

Rickenbacker and Bong Discuss American Air War in Pacific

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP)—Capt. Edward V. Rickenbacker, America's air ace of World War 1, extended congratulations in a two-way radio conversation between New York and New Guinea tonight to Maj. Richard I. Bong, the man who broke his combat record.

"How does it feel to be top man?" asked Rickenbacker, who shot down twenty-six aircraft twenty-six years ago.

"Thanks for those kind words, Capt. Rickenbacker, but you know every flier over here is trying to knock down as many Japs as possible," replied Bond, who has downed twenty-seven.

"Tell me, Major Bong, what quality of Jap fighter pilot are you meeting now?" Rickenbacker inquiredquired.

"I don't think they are nearly as good as used to be," said Bong. "The old timers had more experience. The present ones seem easier to get. It's not only that, Capt. Rickenbacker, our planes and fliers are better than the Japs, too."

The World War I flier congratulated all who were helping to open the road to Berlin and Tokyo.

"That's our job here," said Bong. "And if they'll let us stay here long enough and keep those hot planes coming our way we'll do it, but there can be no victory until the Pacific is cleaned out. That's what every man out here wants to be sure of."

The program was broadcast by the National Broadcasting Company.

Rep. Clare Luce Strongly Backed As GOP Keynoter

No Objections From Spangler

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY

CHICAGO, April 17—(AP)—A move was under way tonight to set aside precedent and choose a woman as keynoter of the Republican national convention—a function heretofore performed by men.

John Kenneth Bradley, Connecticut national committeeman, told reporters he was "feeling encouraged" about his campaign to bring about the selection of Rep. Clare Boothe Luce, blonde, play-writing first termer from his home state, for the task of delivering the theme address.

Talks with Leaders

He reported he had discussed the Luce possibilities with a half-dozen early-arriving members of the Republican arrangements committee—a group which includes eleven women.

"I don't see any reason why she shouldn't be acceptable to the Dewey people," he said. "It seems to me she would bring to the convention exactly the note they want sounded."

National Chairman Harrison E. Spangler commented that he had no scruples against a feminine keynoter.

Mrs. Katherine Kennedy Brown, Ohio's national committeewoman, who is backing Gov. John W. Bricker for the party's presidential nomination, reported she was friendly to Mrs. Luce, but that she would not make up her mind until the arrangements group gives full consideration to the possibilities in the field tomorrow.

Mrs. Brown Favorable

"She'd be extremely interesting and do a good job," Mrs. Brown said.

She expressed the opinion, however, that the women on the arrangements committee would not seek selection of a woman simply because she was a woman, but would base their judgment on qualifications.

Mrs. Brown said Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana "makes a splendid speech," and Sen. Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan is "superb." Both have been mentioned favorably for the honor of making the initial address at the June 26 convention.

MacArthur Still Choice of Group

Declare General Can Be Drafted

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur's disavowal that he is seeking the presidency caused no discouragement today among those Republicans who would draft him as their nominee.

Rep. A. L. Miller (R-Neb), whose correspondence with MacArthur started the whole thing, told a reporter he thought the general's remarks constituted "a very fine statement that clarifies the atmosphere."

"Still Available"

"I still think the general is available and can be drafted," he said.

That was the same conclusion reached by other MacArthur enthusiasts. The general's actual words—taken from a statement issued at his Southwest Pacific headquarters — were:

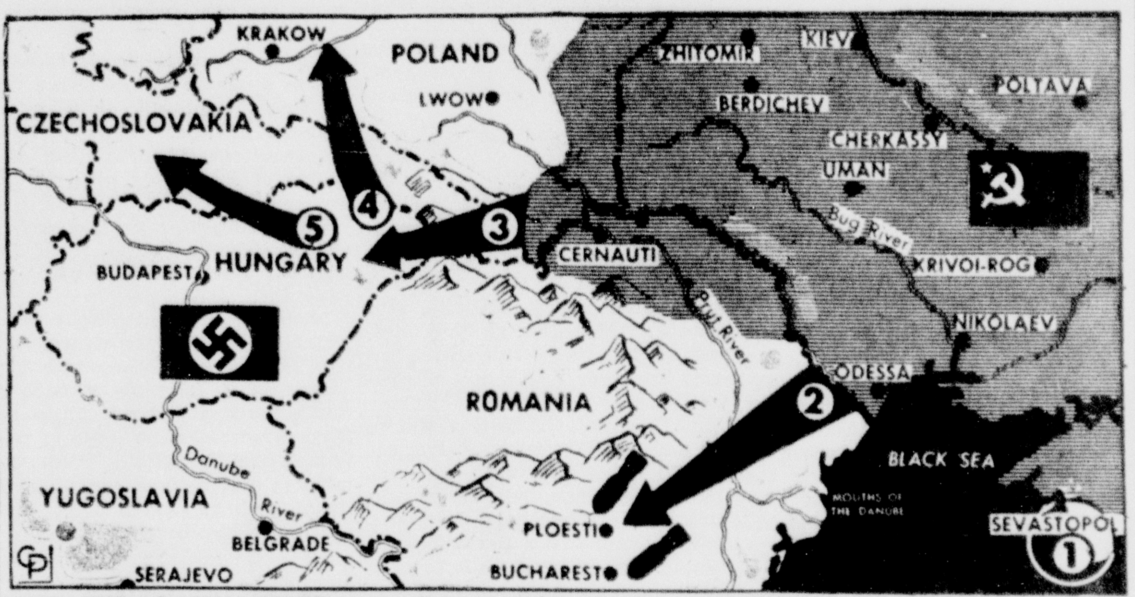
WHERE WILL REDS HIT AFTER CRIMEA DRIVE ENDS?



WITH THE RUSSIAN DRIVE in the Crimea coming to a climax with the entrapment of thousands of Nazis in and around Sevastopol (1), the question arises as to where the Reds will strike next. Some military experts say that the Soviets can pick the spot. Among the possibilities are (2) a drive through Romania with the Ploesti oil fields as the objective; or (3) through the Carpathians to the Hungarian plains. The latter would permit a new offensive into Poland (4) and a drive through Czechoslovakia (5). Working with the Russians, United States airmen have bombed Bucharest, the Romanian capital, and Ploesti.

State of Virginia Becomes Large Stockholder in Whiskey Company

PEORIA, Ill., April 17 (AP) — The State of Virginia today became the owner of 27,740 barrels of the American Distilling Company's whiskey and 29,200 shares of stock, making it the company's largest stockholder.

Two Virginians, Col. R. M. Bollington, member of the state alcoholic beverage control board, and Abram P. Staples, the state's attorney general, announced they had reached an agreement with Gilbert B. Geiger, trustee for American Distilling Company's whiskey distribution, by which Virginia receives the 27,740 barrels of whiskey at cost price.

Col. Bollington disclosed that Virginia, through a recent enabling act of the legislature, was permitted to buy the 29,200 shares of stock which made the state the largest stockholder in the company.

Cost price of the whiskey, Bollington said, will range between $12,500,000 and $13,500,000, including federal taxes. A liquor monopoly state, Virginia sells liquor to its 900,000 "rationed" drinkers through 102 state owned liquor stores, Bollington added.

Today the southern state's drinkers are rationed at one fifth of whiskey per month, but Bollington expressed a belief that the 27,740 barrel purchase will result in increased rations.

Change Is Needed, Bricker Declares

Reports People Spurn New Deal

LOS ANGELES, April 17 (AP)—Gov. John W. Bricker, near the end of a nine-day tour of western states, declared in a speech prepared for delivery tonight that the "people want no more part of the New Deal philosophy" and are seeking "a speedy return to the Republican form of government."

The Ohio governor, candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, said he had concluded on his tour that the American people have four principle objectives. He listed them as follows:

Gives Objectives

First they want to win the war just as soon as possible consistent with the best military tactics and the least loss of life.

Second they want to insure a lasting peace, and so they desire "a firm and positive national and foreign policy that will guarantee our security."

Third, they want a postwar America in which there are jobs under the competitive enterprise system "with freedom and opportunity for all."

And fourth, the governor declared, they want "a speedy return to the Republican form of government," which, he added, would involve "taking policy matters out of the hands

Badoglio Plans New War Cabinet

Former Ministers Resign Posts

SEAT OF THE ITALIAN GOVERNMENT IN ITALY, April 17 (AP)—Premier Marshal Peitro Badoglio, who has headed the Italian government since Benito Mussolini was overthrown last July, tendered the resignation of his ministers today and began the formation of an enlarged and more Democratic war cabinet.

The new cabinet, which probably will be announced tomorrow, will include one representative from each of the six political parties, which make up the national liberation junta, including the Communists.

Although King Vittorio Emanuele, in accepting the government's resignation, asked Badoglio to form a new cabinet acceptable to all, it

Shipyard Wage Hike Protested

Baltimore Company Enters Complaint

BALTIMORE, April 17 (AP)—The shipyard pay hike, averaging four cents per hour, ordered by the War Labor Board's shipbuilding commission was protested today by the president of the Maryland Drydock Company who contended the commission's decision would increase the firm's labor costs 3.9 per cent.

In telegrams to James F. Byrnes, director of war mobilization, and Fred Vinson, director of economic stabilization, George H. French said that the increase, affecting ninety-two per cent of the company's employes, would boost the annual wage bill by approximately $750,000.

"There will be dumped into the city of Baltimore more than $600,000 in lump sum retroactive wage payments," French continued. "By the terms of the contract under which we do business, every cent of this increased labor cost will be borne by the people for whom we do business. Eighty-five per cent of our work is for the United States government."

French informed Byrnes and Vinson that the Maryland Drydock Company was appealing the commission's decision, which he requested they disapprove.

Australian Students Demonstrate In Protest against Curb of Press

SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA, April 17 (AP)—Cries of "gestapo" came from a street crowd and marching university students sang "Freedom of the Press Lies Amouldering in the Grave" as the censorship controversy which suppressed Sydney's four daily newspapers reached court today. An interim injunction was granted restraining censorship authorities from interfering with publication.

The students, estimated to number about 2,000, paraded the streets after speeches at the university and then marched to the Office of the Information department. Police broke up the demonstration.

A crowd gathered outside one of the newspaper plants.

During the court hearing, which resulted in an injunction being granted to the Sydney Daily Telegraph, justices several times referred to the absence of any matter in the controverted stories or editorials that was prejudicial to the public safety or the defense of the commonwealth, or of value to the enemy.

It was disclosed today that the story which the four newspapers attempted to publish related to "misunderstanding abroad." Arthur Caldwell, information minister, charged last week that R. G. Henderson, chairman of the Australian Newspaper Proprietors Association, was inaccurate and untruthful when he replied to Caldwell's statement suggesting that Australian newspapers and journalists were responsible for the alleged misunderstandings.

Roads Leading Into City Now Held by Reds

Soviet Air Forces Join in Assaults

By TOM YARBROUGH

LONDON, Tuesday, April 18 (AP) — Russian troops plunged to within a mile of Sevastopol's bay on the north yesterday, seized two junctions on roads leading into the city from the southeast, and hurled thousands of German and Romanian troops into a narrowing eighty-five-square-mile death trap around the stricken Crimean stronghold, Moscow announced last night.

A bulletin also said that Russian long-range airmen had joined the devastating Allied aerial offensive against Romania with a mass attack Sunday night on the Danube river port and defense hub of Galati.

One Russian column of Gen. Feodor I. Tolbukhin's Fourth Ukraine Army captured Mekenziya, only two miles north of Sevastopol, which is built on the chalk cliffs south of the bay. This group was only a mile from the north shore of the bay, which is reported jammed with Axis evacuation ships sunk by Russian bombers.

On the eastern side of Sevastopol another Russion column captured Cherkez-Kermen, eight miles outside the city, the bulletin said. Between this Red army force and Sevastopol lie Inkerman and Malakhov hill, Sevastopol's last natural defenses.

A third Soviet unit fought its way into Verkhny-Chorgun, a road junction six miles southeast of Sevastopol, and only four miles from Inkerman.

Farther south Gen. Andrei I. Yeremenko's independent maritime army, fighting its way around the coast and through the mountains, was only twelve miles from Sevastopol and five miles from Balaklava, scene of the renowned nineteenth century "Charge of the Light Brigade", with the capture of the road junction of Varnutka.

Russian troops, making an over-all twenty-five mile gain during the day, cracked the 2,200-foot mountain position on the southern coast known as the Baidary gate in the advance to Varnutka.

On the southern coast the westernmost point taken during the day was the health resort of Foros, twenty-one miles beyond Yalta, which was seized the day before.

Moscow dispatches said the Russian people expected the fall of Sevastopol shortly, but Soviet communications said the Germans had heavily mined the roads leading into the city, blown up bridges and built numerous road blocks in the mountains.

New Air Giant Smashes Record

Crosses Country In Seven Hours

By JAMES J. STREBIG
Associated Press Aviation Editor

WASHINGTON, April 17—(AP)—A new giant of the air paths, the Lockheed Constellation, crossed this continent today in six hours fifty-eight minutes, an average speed of nearly 355 miles an hour—a speed well beyond anything flown previously for a similar distance.

The big triple-ruddered, four-engine ship with a shark's body contour flew east from Burbank, Calif., in the colors of Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., which sponsored its development, but is being turned over to the army immediately for use in war transport work.

New Record for Distance

Compared with the Constellation's time for the non-stop flight is the previous fastest cross-country trip of seven hours twenty-eight minutes flown in a specially designed plane by Howard R. Hughes on January 19, 1937. Hughes flew from Burbank to Newark, N. J., on a 2,445-mile route at an average speed of 327 miles an hour.

In contrast with his lone trip, however, the Constellation carried seventeen persons, and there was room in its cabin for forty more passengers with luxury accommodations. As a troop transport it could carry 100 soldiers with full equipment.

The fastest transport crossing previously flown was ten hours twenty-two minutes by Leland S. Andrews and H. B. Snead in a two-engine Vultee from Los Angeles to Washington on February 20, 1935, at an average speed of 221.6 miles an hour.

Plane Behind Schedule

Hughes, an outstanding figure in aviation as well as a motion picture producer, shared the controls of the Constellation with Jack Frye, president of the TWA. Despite the record, it was understood that the plane was slightly behind schedule.

Army officers declined to permit publication of any official figures on the flight, but did permit Frye and Hughes to say that the flight was a record.

"It is a perfectly marvelous ship," Frye said. "It is simply great. It flies and handles like a pursuit (meaning a fighter plane). I guess the thing to say is that it flies like a dream."

The plane left Burbank at 3:56 a. m. Pacific War Time and was over the Washington national airport at 1:54 p. m. Eastern War Time.

Sheppard Knocks Out Buddy Walker

BALTIMORE, April 17 (AP) — Curtis (the Hatchet Man) Sheppard, slugging Pittsburgh heavyweight, caught up to Buddy Walker, veteran Columbus, Ohio, ringman, with a knock-out in the eighth stanza of a scheduled ten-round bout tonight.

The end came for Walker, who weighed 191½, just as it appeared he would make it three in a row over Sheppard, who weighed in at 188½.

Senate Banking Committee Hears Much about Hard Life under OPA

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—Apples, cauliflower, cabbage and steaks—all raw—were piled up on the big table of the Senate Banking committee today by grocers and meat dealers who complained of a hard life under OPA.

"Lok at these," said Norman Wilson of Baltimore, holding up two cubed steaks. "The OPA says I can't cube these beforehand, that I can't get ready for rush orders that way. I have to wait until someone orders cubed steaks and tenderize them in the customer's presence."

Herman Lissy, also of Baltimore, described himself as "a bad boy with the OPA" because of an attempt to split up apples for sale at varying prices, some a bit under and some a bit over the ceiling prices. He supplied the fruit display. He was required to charge alike for good and bad.

The storekeepers asked that Congress compel OPA to make no rules upsetting traditional business practices. They asked especially that retail ceiling prices reflect what they called "historical mark-ups" over what they have to pay wholesalers.

The committee earlier heard Secretary of the Navy Knox urge continuance of price controls beyond their June 30 expirations date, to keep down the cost of munitions and to bolster the welfare of servicemen and their dependents.

VOTERS WILL OUST NEW DEAL IN FALL, FUNKHOUSER SAYS

KEYSER, W. Va., April 17 (AP)—Raymond J. Funkhouser of Charles Town, campaigning for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, predicted tonight that West Virginians, "along with the others of every state in the union, will repudiate the New Deal at the polls in November."

He contended that President Roosevelt "has embraced the New Deal bureaucratic policy which practically ignores not only the right of the states but also the judgment of the people and their right to self rule."

"The national New Deal government," Funkhouser continued, "would make laws so that the governor of West Virginia and the legislature would be a stooge for some long haired visionary in charge of the Washington bureau. I don't think West Virginia will allow this to happen."

Funkhouser asserted that "party bosses are on their way out — in West Virginia and all over America," adding:

"If Tom Dewey should head the Republican ticket in November it will spell doom for party bosses all over.

"This is not just another election year, this is the election of all American elections.

"We must rededicate our everlasting faith in the good sense and judgment of the people. The basic principle of the constitution is faith in the judgment of the people and it is this very principle that is now in danger of complete elimination through New Deal Bureaucracy."

Stimson Replies

the enemy enough of the kind of men we need to do the job.

"Final victory makes this demand upon us, final victory depends on satisfying this demand above all others."

Speculation Useless

"No human intelligence can tell the emergencies which are going to arise on any one of our battlefronts or the losses we are going to incur with the varying fortunes of war.

"No human intelligence can thus tell us beforehand the varying requirements in men which will be needed at a given time in the future.

"We cannot afford to be caught too low. The safety of the nation is involved. If we estimate too high, we promptly correct our estimates when we have the facts."

Stimson's statement was in the form of an answer to a question by a War department spokesman who asked:

"Mr. Secretary, in the current wide discussion of Selective Service uncertainties there is an implied criticism of the army, because of the army's changing manpower requirements. Do you wish to say anything about that?"

Stimson then gave a detailed explanation of how the army estimates its needs.

MacArthur Still

"The high constitutional processes of our representative and Republican form of government in which there resides with the people the sacred duty of choosing and electing their chief executive are of so imposing a nature as to be beyond the sphere of any individual's coercion or decision.

"I can only say, as I have said before, I have not sought the office nor do I seek it."

Not Critical of FDR

Miller said he "never felt that General MacArthur was attacking the New Deal, although he agreed with some of my thoughts "when the general wrote the congressman. MacArthur's statement repudiated any idea that his letters were intended as criticism of the administration, he also declared he never intended that the correspondence should become public.

MacArthur's statement reached the United States as many Republican leaders were heading for Chicago to arrange the party's national convention which will select a nominee. Most Republicans in Congress —those who had no part of the letter-writing incident—offered no comment on the general's statement.

Change Is

of the chief executive and restoring it to congress where it belongs."

The governor said:

Distrusts New Deal

"There appears, I'm sorry to say, a certain amount of cynicism in some quarters about the possibilities of avoiding World War III, if certain administration policies are not changed. The atmosphere of suspicion and distrust which the New Deal has brought about with its back-room diplomacy, its political censorship of war news and its refusal to state in unequivocal terms its war aims, has disturbed the American people.

"It is my sincere belief that all four of these objectives can be realized soonest and best by a Republican victory at the elections this fall.

Badoglio Plans

was not certain whether Badoglio would head the new government as premier or would take some other post.

His position appeared to depend upon the agreement that is reached by the newly-designated members of the cabinet.

Badoglio engaged in conferences today with political leaders including Benedetto Croce, former senator. Croce and Count Carlo Sforza, former foreign minister who returned from a Fascist-enforced exile at the end of Mussolini's rule, were expected to be in the cabinet as ministers without portfolio.

A spokesman said the new cabinet at the outset would meet the Junta's demand for a declaration that a constitutional assembly will be held at the end of the war to enable the Italian people to decide the form of government they want, whether a republic or a monarchy.

Baltimore & Ohio Shipments Increase

BALTIMORE, April 17 (AP)—A total of 69,061 carloads was handled by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company during the week ended April 15, an increase of 752 over the corresponding week of last year, an official of the company reported today.

Commando Kelly On Way Home; Wants No Big Celebration

PITTSBURGH, April 17 (AP) — A big city-wide welcome-home celebration for Tech. Sgt. Charles E. (Commando) Kelly, winner of the Congressional Medal of Honor, may be all right but—

"What 'Chuck' wants is a little private celebration, after he sees 'mom.' With just the rest of his family and his friends present," said Brother Frank, 48, a veteran of twelve years in the army and two campaigns in this war.

And "Mom" Kelly added:

"I don't believe Charles wants all these honors. He'd rather just come home quietly and I wouldn't be surprised if he came in without anyone knowing he is here. He's like that."

It could be. No one, not even the army, knows where Kelly is just now.

Wounded at Tarawa, But Didn't Know It

SOMEWHERE IN THE PACIFIC (Delayed) (AP) — Marine Private Clarence E. Maisano, Pittston, Pa., was wounded in the initial assault on Tarawa, but he didn't find out about it until the battle was over three days later.

In a dispatch from marine combat correspondent Hy Hurwitz, Maisano is quoted as stating:

"I felt something sting me on the way into the beach. After the island was secured, one of the men asked me what was wrong with the back of my neck. I went to the first-aid station where the doctor removed a piece of shrapnel from my neck."

Maisano was recently awarded the Purple Heart.

Two Youths Are Fined For Discharging Guns Within City Limits

Arrested Sunday afternoon on a charge of discharging firearms within the city limits, two young men booked as Pompelis Ucci and John Lamartine, 71 Prospect square, each paid a $5 fine in police court yesterday at a hearing before Magistrate Frank A. Perdew.

Officer Luther L. Youngblood, who preferred charges, said the youths were arrested after Greene street residents reported that bullets were whizzing through the trees. The weapon, which the boys said they were firing at birds, was confiscated, police said.

Robert Shrout, Jr., North Mechanic street, forfeited $10 bond yesterday when he failed to appear on a charge of disorderly conduct.

George Sapp, Maryland avenue, paid a fine of $5 on the same charge. With Shrout, he was arrested on North Mechanic street Sunday following a fight.

Wesley Kipe, Route 4, forfeited $10 on a charge of interfering with an officer, and $10 for disorderly conduct. Charles Tingler, North Centre street, was acquitted of a charge of interfering with an officer.

Faced with two charges of disorderly conduct, Lauran Lapp, 1008 Oldtown road, forfeited $20 bond yesterday.

Lapp was arrested shortly before midnight Saturday by Officer William E. Valentine, along with Kipe and Tingler, following a fight on North Mechanic street. Lapp and Kipe returned to the scene of their former trouble within twenty-five minutes and both posted an additional $10 bond after their arrest on charges of disorderly conduct.

Cumberland Gets More Publicity

Cumberlanders may or may not favor the candidacy of Gov. John W. Bricker, of Ohio, for the Republican nomination for the presidency of the United States, but at least they owe the Bricker-for-President committee a vote of thanks. They are giving the city a little publicity.

The committee, it seems, has prepared a ten page pamphlet endorsing the candidacy of Gov. Bricker and the pamphlets, no doubt, will find its way to many a nook and cranny of the United States before the Republican convention.

In the second paragraph of page two is the mention of Cumberland. It points out that Gov. Bricker's ancestors left the Swiss borderland and came to America before the Revolutionary war. His great-grandfather, it states, migrated by wagon from Cumberland, Md., and settled on a farm near Mt. Sterling, Ohio, in 1830.

Woman Seeks Divorce; Charges Non-Support

Charging that her husband has failed to support her ever since their marriage on April 14, 1943, and that he threatened her and beat her until her health has become impaired, Margaret M. Butts filed suit in circuit court Saturday for an absolute divorce from George Oscar Butts.

In a court order signed by Associate Judge William A. Huster, Butts is restrained from entering her home, molesting her or taking her household goods, and is ordered to pay her counsel fee and $15 per week alimony during the course of the suit. Mrs. Butts is represented by Morris Baron.

State Police Hold Two AWOL Pigeons

Two carrier pigeons, AWOL from the army signal corps, were held at the state police barracks at LaVale last night, but troopers said they have orders to turn the birds loose today.

The pigeons, they reported, both carrying messages, were worn out by a wind storm in the mountains Sunday night and came down on the hayloft of Carson E. Hyde, Barton, to spend the night.

Hyde found the pigeons yesterday morning, still too tired to fly, and he turned them over to state police who contacted army authorities. The troopers were informed to feed the pigeons water until today and then turn them loose.

Music Group Meets

Members of the Second Junior Music and Arts Club of Bowling Green studied Bach at the meeting Saturday at the home of Barbara Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Johnson. You Know the Minuteman..

Now . . . Meet the Missus

The hand that rocked the cradle had to have a good trigger finger, because the Minuteman's wife often did her "marketing" in the forest with a gun. She was a Jill of all trades, too—cook, spinner, weaver, pork salter, candle maker, baker, laundress and gardener.

How are her great, great granddaughters doing? Very well, thank you. Some are serving with our armed forces. Some work in war plants. Others grow Victory Gardens, preserve fruits and vegetables, cook, serve, sew . . . save fats, cans and paper . . . make things last, wear them out and do without. They carry their own bundles, keep the family cheerful—in a word, they are doing their share to win the war by taking over on the home front—for their husbands and sons.

In addition to supplying the armed forces with glider and bomber fuselage frames, wing parts, gun turret parts and foodstuffs, Anheuser-Busch produces materials which go into the manufacture of: Rubber • Aluminum Munitions • Medicines • B Complex Vitamins • Hospital Diets • Baby Foods • Bread and other Bakery products • Vitamin-fortified cattle feeds • Batteries • Paper • Soap and Textiles—to name a few.

The women of America have proved their resourcefulness in the kitchen in countless ways. Many have discovered that a glass of cold, golden Budweiser makes their simple wartime meals taste better.

irke L. Simpson Says:

ove by Allied Censors Notifies orld Invasion Is Drawing Near

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

Unprecedented British security freezing even diplomatic channels in England against intentional or inadvertent disclosure of military information dominated war news last night.

It stripped embassies, legations and consular agencies in England of all immunities from censorship or unrestricted movement of personnel to cover "impending" operations. It gave blunt notice to the world that the hour of Anglo-American second-front invasion of the European continent is drawing near. It came, too, at the moment when by every indication victorious Russian armies are moving into position for a simultaneous two-front attack in the east with increasing direct Allied air support to carry out Russian-Allied military commitments exchanged at Teheran.

Moscow advices report the fall of Sevastopol, last Nazi foothold in Southern Russia, imminent. With its capture the full weight of five mighty Russian armies will be available to invade the Nazi citadel.

In close support of the Russian drive at the Galati-Focsani critical sector of the Nazi shriveling Balkan defense front Allied heavy bombers have stepped-up their blasting of every supply life line of the crumbling Nazi defense front from the Carpathian foothills to the Black Sea.

Wallace's Trip To China

IT IS NOW EXPLAINED that Vice President Wallace's trip to Chungking will be terminated before the Democratic national convention July 19. This would dispose of one of the two reasons advanced for his trip, namely, that Mr. Roosevelt, desiring to be rid of Mr. Wallace as a 1944 running mate, was providing him with the means of a graceful exit. Thus the other reason would appear to have standing, namely, that the president has decided in favor of Mr. Wallace's re-nomination and is thus giving him a chance to regain the ground lately lost by him as a second horse, this lost ground having resulted from Mr. Wallace's excessive but vague vocability.

But, whatever time the trip is made by the vice president, the folly of sending him at all is apparent. What he could be expected to do is to make wholesale promises difficult or impossible of fulfilment and it is hard to see where that would be of any help.

The purpose of the mission as now announced is to reassure Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek and the Chinese people that any delay in all-out Allied attempt to retake Burma is only temporary, which is something that could otherwise easily be transmitted. At first, however, the purpose was announced as the use of good offices by the vice president "as an emissary of the United States, in promoting unity among the warring Chinese factions." If factions are actually at war with each other there, this was the first intimation given of them. If there were and the Chinese government had contrived to keep them dark, it is not likely that it would thank the United States for advertising it to the world.

As for its other internal troubles, they do not seem to be out of hand, difficult though they may be, and the Chinese would scarcely thank this nation for butting in and trying to settle them. At any rate, this intervention would probably aggravate rather than ameliorate them.

Thus the alleged need for Mr. Wallace's "good offices" appear questionable even though one should not take to the extreme of one commentator who says that "the stupidity and the effrontery of it are simply appalling."

Those Unfortunate MacArthur Letters

REPERCUSSIONS resulting from publication of the MacArthur letters demonstrate two things quite clearly, namely, the folly of seeking to utilize the military glory of an eminent army chieftain for political purposes, and the impropriety of one so situated in writing anything connected with political affairs while engaged in prosecution of the war.

Perhaps MacArthur was more sinned against than sinning in connection with the letters from him published by Representative Miller, of Nebraska, which the general says were not intended for publication. As to the possibility of that the general should have known better. Even those engaged in politics know the danger involved in letter-writing.

At any rate, Gen. MacArthur now reiterates that he has not sought the presidency and does not seek it, albeit he does not say whether he would accept nomination if he were drafted, which, perhaps, is quite natural.

Mark Sullivan, in his dispatch published on this page today, says the MacArthur boom germinates from the hatred of the Japanese on the part of the peoples of the West coast and the Midwest, where the Japanese menace was so long a matter of chief concern, and the belief of those people that Japan is our chief enemy and should so be regarded. Sullivan is careful to note, however, that the other factors of danger not unrelated to the Japanese menace, is not given sufficient consideration there.

Whatever the source of the MacArthur boom, it has been an unfortunate thing for reasons this newspaper has heretofore set forth. The chief of these is that MacArthur is needed where he is and should be kept at the magnificent job he has been doing, to equal which it would perhaps be difficult to find another man in view of his experience in waging the war in the Pacific. There should be complete divorcement of the military from the political field in the prosecution of this vital war program. Gen. MacArthur is a lifetime soldier, knows little of political affairs and is restrained from engaging in them by reason of his military duties and thus the voters can have insufficient data as to his political views on which to base a choice.

A good point is made in connection with the Miller invitation that the general become a "candidate for commander-in-chief of all the armed forces" and remain in active military service during the pre-election campaign. It is that this is wholly inconsistent with our constitutional process, since we elect presidents and not commanders-in-chief of our military and naval forces.

MacArthur says he regrets the publication of the Miller letters and doubtless feels that it would have been better if he had never written them. The commotion they aroused should serve as a useful guide about writing any more in kind. So far as his availability for the presidency is concerned, they have done him more harm than good.

Penicillin Production

AT ITS SPRING MEETING in Cleveland a few days ago, the American Chemical Society was informed that since last June the production of penicillin in this country has increased a hundredfold and during that period the cost has been decreased eighty-four per cent. Twenty-one private laboratories are producing penicillin.

Despite the increase in production, the number of units of penicillin available in March was sufficient to treat only approximately 47,000 serious cases a month. The output was 1.7 pounds a day. A production gain to nine pounds daily, sufficient for 250,000 cases monthly, is expected soon.

When the federal government exercised authority over the making and distribution of penicillin it was guilty of a tragic wrong in permitting announcements that led the public to believe this marvelous curative agent might be obtained by all who needed it.

Nearly all the penicillin made thus far has been sent to the armed forces and it is rare when any civilian use is authorized. Happily for the future, the chemical laboratories are hard at work and the day will come when, at reasonable cost, this remedy will be sufficiently plentiful for general prescription.

The significant phase of this report is that private enterprise has not only shown itself able to cope with the demand so well, but that it also has been able as the result of manufacturing ingenuity and research to cut the cost of the product tremendously. In view of such accomplishment, it is queer why some misguided persons entertain the notion that private enterprise is a failure and must go.

Invasion Will Require Some Heavy Shelling

REPORTS from neutral European sources indicate that Germany has completed its first line of defense in Western Europe and is hard at work on a second line. The race is on with Allied preparations in England for the invasion.

The Nazi first line of defense includes the flooding of a part of Holland. Every town in the Northern European coastal strip has been turned into a fortress with tank traps, mine fields, barbed wire obstacles and bunkers. War-seasoned divisions are stationed in Holland, Belgium and Northern France. Incendiary and demolition bombs have been placed in all buildings and fortifications to be set off in case withdrawal becomes necessary. Everywhere land mine fields have been laid.

In detail some of the fortifications include a concrete wall twelve feet high with a wide ditch before it, forming a huge tank trap. In conjunction with these are zigzag trenches strongly protected by barbed wire. Many of the trenches are behind high walls. Much farm land is being laid waste to provide space for the fortifications.

It is evident that Allied shell fire from both ships and planes of unprecedented intensity will be required to pave the way for the first Allied shock troops to set foot on West European soil.

Americans ate more meat in last three months than during any similar period since 1908. This refutes those who allege that rationing is not a success.

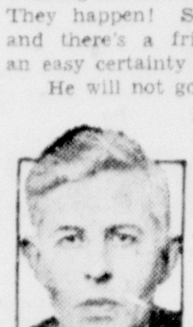
There is no indispensable man. The intelligence of America is not limited to particular leaders. America can produce able leaders at all times.

You Don't MAKE Friends

By MARSHALL MASLIN

If you think you can MAKE friends, you're mistaken.

Friends aren't made as manufacturers make washing machines, as millionaires make money. They happen! Suddenly you raise your eyes and there's a friend alongside and you feel an easy certainty that he will always be there.



Marshall Maslin

He will not go away, he will not waver. If you get into trouble he will not say, "I'm disappointed in you, Jim. I didn't know you were this sort of fellow." . . . He will not need to understand. He'll stick without understanding, if necessary. Let others sit in judgment on you—he will not. He will not be "reasonable" or judicial about his friendship for you. He'll just be your friend and that will be enough.

I know a man who said in a moment of great trouble to himself: "When you mix logic and friendship, it turns to treason."

It does indeed. Cold reason about your friend is the first step toward friendliness, the first treasonable departure from him and your friendship.

Some people boast of all the friends they have made. If they do, set it down that they have few real friends at all. Friendship is not a word to be used so lightly. You may boast of how the garden is growing or how many miles you travel on a gallon of gasoline, but you cannot—must not—boast of the precious luck of friendship.

It is in the heart, it flows through the arteries and works its way into the veins and back again to the great vessel of life. It's where you LIVE and if you have only ONE friend you may count yourself forever among the fortunate mortals who have had the best of life.

MacArthur Boom Is Laid to Hatred Of the Japanese

By MARK SULLIVAN

Last week, advocacy of Gen. Douglas MacArthur for the Republican presidential nomination was brought to the front, almost sensationally. It came through publication, by Nebraska Congressman A. L. Miller, of letters sent by him to Gen. MacArthur, and the latter's replies.

Mark Sullivan

What is here considered is a single aspect of this correspondence the basic one. Why is there demand that Gen. MacArthur be the Republican presidential nominee? Why is Gen. MacArthur thus singled out — rather than Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, for example, who has in our European war much the same responsibility that Gen. MacArthur has in our Pacific war. To answer this question is to explain a remarkable national phenomenon.

Demand for Gen. MacArthur has come mainly from the part of the country which Congressman Miller represents—that is, broadly, the Midwest and the Far West to the Pacific Coast. For this there is a reason.

Japan the Chief Enemy

The West and the Pacific coast have always regarded Japan as our chief enemy, and most immediate one. This is natural Japan actually attacked us, and made her attack on an outpost of the West. For many months, the West was in fear of invasion by Japan, and Japan did come as far as the Aleutian islands. Japan inflicted defeats upon us, serious ones, at Pearl Harbor and in the Philippines.

Feeling this way, the West has always rather questioned the early decision, made by President Roosevelt and our military heads, to regard Japan as merely our secondary enemy, Germany as our primary one. The West has tended to glorify the army head who stood between us and Japan. It has resented the fact that MacArthur was given only limited military forces and supplies—that he was, to quote words he used in one of his letters to Congressman Miller, restricted to "doing what we can with what we have." In short, to those who think we should have fought Japan as our primary enemy, Gen. MacArthur became at once a hero and a martyr.

Chief Factor

This is the foundation of the demand for Gen. MacArthur. While other factors have contributed, including his magnetic personality, this is the one which gave the general his first momentum, and which distinguishes him from other presidential possibilities.

Was the original basis of the demand for Gen. MacArthur valid? To ask that is to ask another question: Was it a wise decision to make Germany our primary enemy, and treat Japan as secondary? To start with, this can be said: A decision between the two had to be made. It had to be made, if only by tossing a penny. A first principle of military strategy is that, when you are in a war with two enemies, on two fronts, you must not divide your force equally between them. You must make one enemy primary, the other secondary.

To make Germany the primary enemy—and to do this within three weeks of Pearl Harbor—took courage. For precisely the reason that many in America, especially in the West, regarded Japan as the primary enemy, and a desperately dangerous one. The decision ignored politics, was made on military grounds solely. It has worked well—Germany is close to defeat. And the potential danger that inevitably attended making Japan our secondary enemy, has not materialized. Japan did not make progress, she was stopped, and is being defeated.

Unsound Complaint

Any who still claim we should have made Japan the primary enemy may have the dialectical advantage of the "might-have-beens." They may say that by now we might have conquered Japan. But they ignore the other might-have-beens—what might have happened in Europe had we not gone to the aid of Britain and Russia.

Actually, our progress against Japan has not been as seriously retarded as is frequently said. Our war against Japan had to be chiefly naval, and we could not press it until we recovered from our initial disaster at Pearl Harbor, and otherwise built up our navy. Moreover, the complaint that we gave MacArthur only limited force and supplies, is not as sound as it sounds. The complaint takes account only of the supplies we sent MacArthur as a military commander. It ignores the enormous naval strength we sent against Japan. At all times, and inmcreasingly lately, by far the larger portion of our whole naval strength has been directed against Japan.

IN PUBLIC RELATIONS

A FIGHTING ADMIRAL whose task force was credited with sinking five Jap war ships, Rear Adm. Aaron S. Merrill, above, will be appointed to the post of director of the navy's office of public relations in Washington, succeeding Capt. Leland P. Lovette, who is expected to be appointed to sea duty.

Overturned Tombstones

From the Cincinnati Times Star

We have been thinking about those fourteen Cincinnati boys who confessed to overturning and damaging tombstones and digging holes around graves in old St. Joseph cemetery. No doubt those youngsters thought they were having a good time. That is just the trouble. Something was lacking in their education and upbringing which made them unable to see how shocking their act was. Boys who overturn trash cans on Halloween are expressing animal spirits that nobody but an old fussbudget would want to curb. But boys who violate tombstones offend the most sacred instincts of mankind. The boy who paints, "Johnny is a sissy" on Johnny's board fence may be having a good time. But the boy who defiles a Jewish synagogue or paints a swastika on the wall of St. Patrick cathedral in New York is a vandal.

The war is blamed for these and innnumerable other signs of juvenile delinquency today. Yesterday the automobile was blamed. Tomorrow postwar unrest will be blamed. But the real blame rests ultimately upon what should be the great educational forces of mankind—the school and the home especially the home.

Paul Mallon has been conducting a campaign, which has aroused nation-wide interest, against the shortcomings of so-called "progressive education," which argues that the most precious thing about a child is his freedom of self-expression. Mallon has come to the conclusion, which most teachers have known all along, that the school can never hope to take the place of the home in shaping the child's character. The worst thing about the extremes of "progressive education" is that they tend to undo the discipline of a proper home environment and to abet the faults of parents who let their children run wild.

Of course war-time conditions make the task of parents more difficult. But parents who appreciate the vital importance of their job take on heavier responsibilties in times like the present. Those overturned tombstones are a shocking symbol of the failure of home environment.

Assembly Line Plan of Education Must Make Way for Scholarship, Mallon Says

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, April 17—Dear Mr.—(newspaper publisher): Watch out for your teacher correspondent, Miss G. She is a type beginning to become familiar to me, the kind trying to turn public attention away from the glaring deficiencies in our education and youth systems by any distraction, possible or impossible. I got only as far as her sly question as quoted in your newspaper:

Paul Mallon

"Is Mr. Mallon attacking all American schools and institutions?"

I threw the rest of the clipping away. I do not bother with that kind, which can only represent either intellectual dishonesty or an inability to read plain English. To do so would serve their purposes, they well know what the issue is:

The restoration of discipline in both scholarship and conduct in the schools. Let them talk and write about that.

What has happened in education has become quite clear to me. We went into mass production about twelve to fifteen years ago. Education got to be big business, and the classroom an assembly line.

Ideals Sacrificed

We sacrificed the ideals of workmanship and scholarship to the ideal of numbers. We got to turning out three or four times as many students, but they were less than half educated.

How could it be otherwise? The standards naturally had to be lowered to take in everyone. We even got so low in a few progressive educational schools that today there is no standard either of scholarship or discipline except that established by the children themselves.

Grown-up educators, with apparently adult minds, today openly advocate that every child be passed regardless of his mental capacity so he will not personally be ashamed of his deficiency. Imbeciles thus fix our standard. Nearly everywhere we have cut our great educational ideals to some extent to cater to the lowest and the worst of our populace.

This sort of thing cannot continue. The people will not stand for it when they see their children not being properly educated, not being taught to think in accordance with their real ability.

Some corrections are obvious. The restoration of standards is clearly demanded.

Elective System Should Go

In colleges, this can easily be done by abolishing the elective system, allowing educators to fix the course rather than the students. This has been started already in California university, and must be followed in the high schools where those of sufficient intelligence to hope to go to college must be required to study fundamentals sufficiently to pass college examinations.

Also it must be done in grade schools in order to prepare students properly for high school. For those capable of learning, our course then is clear. Scholarship can be restored in this way alone.

This way also will furnish the beginning of restoration of discipline. Then we will at least develop sufficient leaders to handle our future nation wisely in business, politics, economics, for, from this class of those capable of learning must come our leadership.

As for the rest, I am not so certain. I prefer to believe that the average child in the United States is in the first class, but some educators tell me different.

Hazardous Prospect

If we are developing such a nation of morons so as not to be able to teach our average child the fundamentals of reading, writing, and arithmetic—if the minds we are spawning are not capable of retaining common education, as some educators say—the future of democracy and intelligent decisions by the voting masses of the people is certainly a hazardous prospect. I do not believe these claims can be justified except with strained statistims, counting heavily a large class of backwoods illiterates and imbeciles everywhere.

But, in any case, they must be handled in a special way. We must offer the utmost possible schooling to our least educatable class. It, therefore, must be done in separate classes or separate schools.

What their little minds think about such classification is not half as important to this nation as the maintenance of scholarship for those able to learn. This country cannot be sacrificed to its mental deficients.

Punishment Essential

Another step absolutely essential is the restoration of the right of punishment to the teachers or principals of all schools. Our youth must be required to study and to accept a social line of discipline and conduct established by the majority. Vandalism, hoodlumism and sloth must be put down by whatever punishment is required.

The standard for punishment should be that it must be effective. Parent-Teacher associations must insist upon this. School boards must choose high types of men as principals, men capable of disciplinary leadership in accordance with modern psychiatric understandings.

Above all: Chase the crackpots out.

Yours sincerely,
PAUL MALLON.

Observers See Bricker Affected By Willkie Move

By CENTRAL PRESS

WASHINGTON — Wendell W kie's swan song after the Wisco sin primary might just as well h been a duet with Gov. John Bricker, of Ohio, chiming in on final notes.

For Willkie's announcement withdrawal was virtually announcement of Governor Bricker's withdrawal from the presidential race, too.

Governor Brick

Although Bricker is expected to continue campaigning for the G. O. P. presidential nomination, astute Washington political observers feel that Willkie has ended Bricker's chances, as a deadlock tween Willkie and Governor Thom E. Dewey of New York at the R publican convention was seen Bricker's only hope for the nom nation.

With the fading away of chance to become a comprom candidate, Bricker is expected step aside, Dewey's nomination ing a foregone conclusion.

Fleet Fight Seen Forced

Japan's merchant fleet now fa annihilation under the guns a carried-based planes of Americ fleet, which is roaming the Paci virtually at will.

The recent heavy blows again Jap shipping by United States ta forces demonstrated that ene vessels no longer are safe even harbors protected by land-bas planes.

Jap supply ships were caught sitting ducks in harbors at Rabau Kavieng, Truk, Saipan and Pa by Navy dive and torpedo bombe and the guns of our battleship cruisers and destroyers.

According to some naval exper this situation may finally force hiding Japanese fleet to fight effort to maintain its tenuous s ply lines.

These developments take on add ed significance in the light of t fact that America's submarine o fensive still is mounting in scop Jap ships are being torpedoed undersea craft from enemy ho waters to the East Indies.

The recent assault on once-powe ful Palau foreshadowed similar ta force blows at the hirtherto u touched Bonin islands and enem harbors in the Philippines.

Draft Sanctuary Vanishing

Recent Selective Service and Wa power Commission moves seem have provided the handwriting o wall for the 4-F draft classificati as a draft-proof "sanctuary." It ap pears that very shortly the rejectee will become obliged either to g into useful war work of their ow accord or start working forcibly u der legislative or administrativ compulsion.

The reason: the nation need 4-F's to replace men drafted fro war plants, agriculture and wa supporting industry. There are a proximately three million of the military age men who are physical ly unfit and rejected from servi in the fighting forces because o ailments which would not nece sarily disqualify them from essentia employment.

Selective Service Director Lew B. Hershey says too many 4-F have used their classification eith not to work or to work in unesse tial activities. These men, he insis now constitute the greatest reserv pool of manpower to replace me drafted from industry and agricul ture.

War Manpower Commissione Paul V. McNutt estimates that mo 4-F's already are in useful wa work, but that more than 850,00 are in trade, services, finance, insu ance and real estate and that a great many more are students.

Complete Befuddlement

From the Johnstown, Pa., Tribune

We know that the job of recru ing an Army of 11,000,000 men— women—involves many problem try the patience and tax the nuity of those in charge of the lective Service system, but is th really any legitimate excuse fo almost daily changes in the orde issued? Almost invariably—the promulgated today is rescinded to morrow, and the public is kept a constant state of befuddlement.

Complying with the recent o with respect to the induction of between the ages of 18 and 26, the exception of a small percen who hold key positions because they hold key positions in war industries, most boards had refrained from calling registra over 25 years of age. A few are proceeding as though the order never been issued. But it necessary to do so to meet the quotas, in which no reduction made when the 18-26 edict proclaimed.

The confusion appears to be general. It embraces the draft board the young men who are awaiti their call for induction, the public and, in all probability, the Selective Service officials in Washington. It is a mess that should be cleaned up for the peace of mi of everybody.

Job Preference Promised Vets

First with Ford And Government

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP) — Henry Ford promised war veterans priorities on postwar jobs in his vast enterprises today, and the House voted overwhelmingly to give ,them the first call on all government payrolls.

Ford, whose plants now hire 180,000 war workers, said veterans will get the preference when the war ends because "people have made a lot of money out of this war and the servicemen have made nothing." The Ford companies have 25,000 workers in the armed services.

Makes Pledge to Hines

He made the pledge in a letter to Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines, director of veterans' retraining and re-employment, and said he hoped other companies will do the same thing. Under present law employers are required to rehire war-absent workers and give them their old jobs as far as possible.

Shartly after Ford's letter became public the House voted 312 to 1 to give war veterans, their wives and widows, the top priority in filling government jobs after the war.

Backed by Roosevelt

The bill, introduced by Rep. Starnes (D-Ala), had the backing of President Roosevelt who told a congressional committee the government should set an employment example for private industry. The bill now goes to the Senate.

It provides that the names of servicemen and the wives or widows of disabled veterans go to the top of government job lists. In civil service ratings ten points would be added for disabled veterans and their wives or widows and five points for all other servicemen and women.

Lend-Lease Aid To Japan Denied

Charges Cause Furore in House

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—A series of sharp questions, many aimed at Britain's policies, unexpectedly embroiled the House today in several hours argument over continuation of lend-lease for another year.

The controversy, so heated at times it held the crowded galleries in tense silence and at another point invoked a round of loud handclapping, was touched off by Rep. Elmer (R-Mo) in his questioning of Chairman Bloom (D-NY) of the Foreign Affairs committee.

Elmer demanded to know if a rumor he heard was true—that U. S. goods were shipped to Russia through the Japanese blockade and the Russians turned it over to the Japanese. Rep. Wadsworth (R-NY) and Bloom promptly denied it.

Elmer asked also about "rumors" that lend-lease had been mishandled to the benefit of Britain and the disadvantage af the United States and asked why Bloom's committee did not hear the five touring United States senators who returned from the battlegronts with some of these stories.

"Didn't you want to find out the truth?" Elmer shouted.

"We got the truth, and not from the senators but from the real authorities and there's not an atom of truth to these rumors," Bloom shot back.

Bodies of Two Headless Women Found in Ozarks

CAMDENTON, Mo., April 17—(AP)—The nude bodies of two headless women, both horribly mutilated, were found in the Lake of the Ozarks over the weekend sending Missouri peace officers on an intensive search for a demented fiend.

Neither victim of the state's most grewsome murder mystery of recent years had been identified. One appeared to be about 26 years old and the other 45.

The younger woman had wounds from a small gauge shotgun under her right arm and on her left breast. Sheriff Jack Stotler said a knife and hatchet evidently were used to mutilate the bodies. Doctors said they apparently had been in the water less than thirty-six hours, and the younger woman had been a mother.

The heads and other missing parts of the bodies had not been found tonight.

Col. Stanley Gwinn, superintendent of the state highway patrol, called the killer "a crazy fiend" and ordered his entire 125-man staff on the case.

The first body was found Sunday by fishermen. The second was found today by Charles Fleetwood, state conservation commission agent, and Robert Wells, state trooper, who were patrolling the lake.

Sen. Chavez Would Draft Older Men

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—Senator Chavez (D-NM) said today he doesn't see why induction of men into the armed forces should stop at twenty-six years of age.

Commenting on the recent order temporarily halting processing of induction of men over twenty-six, Chavez said the draft "ought to be enforced straightaway. Otherwise, it is discriminatory."

He asserted that the people "feel the law should be applied equitably to all persons that the law affects," and that men above twenty-six are "well enough qualified in certain capacities."

Censor Prohibits Travel by Neutrals

By JUDSON O'QUINN

LONDON, April 17 (AP) — In an unprecedented move to safeguard the secrets of the coming invasion, Britain tonight forebade neutral diplomats to leave this country and placed a drastic censorship on diplomatic communication to and from this country by all nations except Russia, the British commonwealth and the United States.

The government decreed that telegrams of all other countries represented here, including Eire, which recently refused a United States request to close its Axis legations, must be written in plain language and submitted to censorship.

Diplomatic pouches of such nations as Sweden and Brazil likewise must be censored henceforth. Couriers or other representatives, naval, military or air attaches may not be sent from this country.

Never before has Britain or any other nation taken such stringent measures as this one designed to insure that no inkling of details of the coming invasion may reach the enemy.

While the British government's action was not seen as accusing any of the Allies or neutrals of wilfully divulging secrets, it was designed to keep innocent-looking information from giving the Germans a tip which would endanger the safety of tens of thousands of British and American soldiers.

Both the United States and Russia were consulted beforehand.

In the past there has been virtually no regulation on diplomatic pouches, even during the First World war.

Germans Predict Early Invasion

NEW YORK, April 17—(AP)—German military circles were quoted in a Bern radio broadcast recorded by CBS tonight as saying that the Allied invasion "will not be long delayed."

"German military circles do not expect that anything will happen in the next few days likely to bring the war to a dramatic climax," it was said. "But judging from the signs of German preparations on the one hand and of the concentration of Anglo-American forces on the other, one must necessarily consider that the invasion will not be long delayed."

THIN! PEPLESS! PALE AS A GHOST!

Is Your Child Ailing that Way, Mother?

What a pity it is when roses fade from little cheeks—when youngsters are thin and underweight and complain of feeling tired all the time! Don't ignore these warnings, Mother! They may mean that your child's blood is short of iron!

In such cases, a good iron tonic like Pepto-Mangan can be very helpful. Pepto-Mangan replenishes whatever iron the blood may be lacking—helps to give it that rich redness so essential for good firm flesh, rosy cheeks, radiant pep and vitality.

Pleasant to take. Recommended by many doctors, when sudden spurts of growth in children have lowered their reserve of blood-iron. Ask your druggist for the original—

Frostburg Will Participate in Paper Salvage

Will Co-operate with Upper Potomac Salvage Drive on April 29

FROSTBURG, April 17 — Frostburg has announced its plan to co-operate with the Upper Potomac Salvage Committee's paper salvage drive to be conducted April 29. The Frostburg drive will be carried out by the Frostburg Salvage Committee, Frostburg Boy Scouts, and Frostburg Cub Scouts. The full co-operation of all residents will be needed if the objective of twenty-five tons of waste paper is attained.

Mills Need Paper

The experience gained in the last drive held in Frostburg, will be used as a guide to simplify the work of collection. The Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts will distribute heavy twine to each house for tying the newspapers and magazines in separate bundles. These will be collected on the day of the drive and newspapers loaded directly in railroad cars for shipment to the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company's mill at Covington, Va. Magazines will be shipped by truck to the Piedmont mill. Both mills are badly in need of wastepaper to help fill current orders for war important paper.

Several neighboring communities who have collections of paper will bring their paper to Frostburg for shipment in order to reduce transportation costs. It is expected that approximately two cars of newspapers and one truck load of magazines will be shipped from Frostburg and the adjoining area. Any community wishing to join in the program should contact Walter Mackay, Frostburg, for details.

Citizens Will Co-operate

Scouts, Cubs, Scouters, and members of the junior chamber of commerce will help in the Frostburg collection, to be made between 9 and 12 a. m. on Saturday, April 29. The drive is under the direction of Walter Mackay, Chairman of the Frostburg Salvage Committee and H. C. Givens, Jr., commissioner, Frostburg District Scouts.

Marriage Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Arnold, Oakland, announce the marriage of their daughter, Leah, to Ellis Yates, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Yates, Frostburg.

The ceremony was solemnized at 8:30 o'clock April 8 at the Glade View Brethren church in Oakland, with the Rev. Lorenza Fike officiating. Miss Laura Arnold, sister and Harold Hosopple, cousin of the bride, were the attendants.

The bride was attired in an aqua blue suit with which she wore black and white accessories and a corsage of gardenias completed her costume. Her maid of honor wore a blue costume with brown accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. Yates, who received an honorable medical discharge from the army in February, after serving two years in Panama, is employed at the Celanese Corporation of America, where his bride is also employed. Mrs. Yates is a graduate of Oakland high school, class of 1942.

Mr. and Mrs. Yates are residing in an apartment at 187 East Main street, Frostburg.

School Is Commended

A movement started eight weeks ago by the Eckhart public school to promote the sale of war bonds and stamps, has resulted in the sale of $2,100 in bonds and $554.75 in stamps, making a grand total of $2,654.75.

The sales campaign was in charge of a committee consisting of Mrs. John Muir, chairman; Mrs. Michael DeMarino and Mrs. Cecil H. Snyder, who received the co-operation of the Eckhart Parent-Teacher Association.

Charles A. Piper, Cumberland, chairman of War Bond committee for Region 1, of Maryland, stated that an official citation, commending the Eckhart Parent-Teacher Association and promised that an official citation will be presented to the school in the near future.

The school with an enrollment of [illegible] students, is being credited with making the community "war bond conscious." The students have visited many homes, urging residents to buy more and more war bonds and stamps.

Mrs. Muir and her committee will continue the sale of bonds and stamps until the close of the current school year.

Tucker County OPA Completes Price Survey

Thirty-Eight Stores Are Still in Violation, Duncan Reports

By HELEN COLLETT

PARSONS, April 17—The price panel of the Tucker County War Price and Rationing Board reported today that four volunteer price panel associates visited fifty-three stores last week in a recheck conducted as a part of the nation-wide OPA survey.

Of the fifty-three stores, all but thirty-eight were found to have corrected violations reported during the survey conducted during the week of March 13-18.

Proprietors of the thirty-eight stores found still in violation will be called before the price panel to explain why they are not in full compliance with price and posting regulations, J. D. D. Duncan, chairman of the Tucker county board said.

A majority of the violations found were on posting, that is, failure to post properly the community ceiling prices, the beef and pork price lists, soap lists, and failure to post the grade and price of beef on the cut of meat displayed, Duncan said.

During the March survey, eighteen stores were found in 100 per cent compliance. With the total found in compliance on the recheck only thirty-eight stores in Tucker county continue in violation of the regulations, Duncan said. The price panel will make every effort to assist stores to keep in full compliance, he added.

Receives Wings

Negro Voting Draws Strong Protest In South Carolina

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 17 (AP)—The South Carolina House of Representatives cheered lustily today as a member shouted out his determination to keep negroes from voting in the state's white Democratic primary.

Rep. John D. Long, a union lawyer who was secretary to the late Cole L. Blease when the latter was in the United States Senate, told his colleagues:

"I'm a white man like you are, and I can say that as for the negro voting in my primary, we'll fight him at the precinct meetings, we'll fight him at the county convention, we'll fight him at the state convention, we'll fight him at the enrollment books, and, by God, we'll fight him at the polls if I have to bite the dust as did my ancestors."

After applauding Long, the House voted its members $25 a day each compensation for the special session called by Governor O. D. Johnston to safeguard "white supremacy."

Over 11,000,000 cords of dead chestnut tree trunks are standing in North Carolina's forests.

226 Seniors Will Be Graduated in Garrett County

Superintendent Rathbun Announces List for Five High Schools

Scattered Stocks Advance in Day Marked by Investment Demands

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP) — Scattered stocks responded moderately to a little investment demand in today's market but dwindling support for many leaders put them in the minus column.

Transfers of 537,720 shares compared with 477,220 in the preceding 5-hour stretch which were the smallest since Oct. 14, last.

Prominent on the downward slant were Sante Fe, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, American Locomotive, U. S. Rubber, Eastman Kodak, Montgomery Ward, Douglas Aircraft, duPont, American Can, Radio Corp., J. I. Case, Bethlehem, General Motors and Chrysler.

Union Pacific and Zonite edged to peaks for 1944. Modest advances were held by U. S. Steel, Atlantic Coast Line, Anaconda, Goodyear, J. C. Penney, International Harvester and Texas Co.

In the Curb Fox (P) Brewing was up 5 points and Brill preferred off 3 on a few sales. Minor recessions were posted for Aluminum of America, Cities Service, Electric Bond & Share and American Gas. Humble Oil stiffened along with Puget Sound Power and Brewster Aero. The aggregate here was 209,575 shares versus 185,245 Friday.

The bond market came up with a small advance under leadership of rails and an assortment of high-priced industrials and utilities.

Transfers expanded to $9,568,500 from $8,237,200 last Friday.

U. S. governments held steady all day but were quiet.

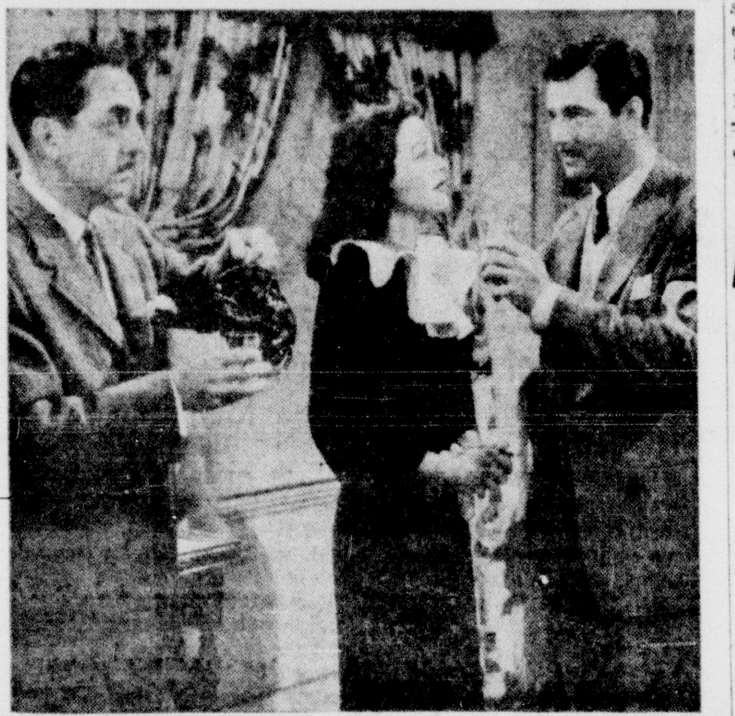
THREE IN A DILEMMA



SOMEONE IS GOING TO PASS OUT in this picture, and it isn't going to be Hedy Lamarr, who is starred with William Powell in M-G-M's "The Heavenly Body," which opens Thursday at the Maryland theater. A sleeping powder has been poured into one of the glasses. William Powell is Hedy's husband, and James Craig is the man she is destined to fall in love with, according to her astrologer. Now, do you know who's going to pass out?

Actor Learns How To Run Steam Roller

Sam Levene, who plays one of the feature roles in Walter Wanger's "Gung Ho!", now playing at the Liberty theater, thought he knew everything about acting until Director Ray Enright pulled another trick out of the bag.

In "Gung Ho!", based on the famous raid by "Carlson's Raiders" on Jap-held Makin island, Levene portrays Gunnery Sergeant "Transport," a heroic role patterned after real-life Gunnery Sergeant Victor "Transport" Maghakian, who won the Navy Cross on Makin and who acted as technical advisor on the Universal picture.

But, for the role, Levene had to learn how to operate a huge steam roller which crashes into the Jap radio station and demolishes it.

Lamarr, Powell Are Teamed in Comedy

With Hedy Lamarr and William Powell teamed for the second time as co-stars, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's comedy, "The Heavenly Body," arrives Thursday at the Maryland theater.

Though Powell is, of course, a well established favorite in the comedy field, it marks their first appearance together in a screenplay of light vein. Their initial costarring venture was last year in "Crossroads."

"The Heavenly Body" also marks a reunion for Director Alexander Hall and Producer Arthur Hornblow, Jr.

Each has been identified with some of Hollywood's brightest comedies. Hall recently directed "My Sister Eileen," "Here Comes Mr. Jordan" and "This Thing Called Love." Hornblow's successes include "The Major and the Minor," "Arise, My Love" and "The Ghost Breakers."

TESTED BY TIME AND THOUSANDS

The famous World's Tonic has a well known past and, judging by the thousands who are using it daily and praising it so highly, its future is amply assured. A typical boost by a satisfied user of World's Tonic says: "I felt all out of condition because of constipation. Could not do any work to speak of without running out of breath and tiring quickly. My stomach bothered me a lot too. Since using World's Tonic and being relieved of constipation these conditions have greatly improved." World's Tonic is skillfully blended in a sanitary, up-to-date and scientific laboratory. World's Tonic (Trade Name) not sold as a General Tonic but as a splendid laxative and stomachic. Caution: Use only as directed. Get World's Tonic at Ford, Keech, Peoples, Truitt, and all other leading Drug Stores. (J-44)

ash at Cincinnati May Draw 27,000; Red Sox Rookie To Face Yankees

By JACK HAND

W YORK, April 17 (AP)—Base- pulls the sheets off the 1944 el tomorrow afternoon with 000 customers expected to join managers and club owners in ng for the best from the therman and the draft-riddled ups.

the sun shines and the warm zes blow, attendance forecasts be revised upwards but 27,000 the traditional opener in Cin- ati is tops so far.

the third wartime campaign started, only two pitchers who ked the '43 openers definitely been nominated for tomorrow. Javery, of the Boston Braves, Lum Harris, of the Athletics, of whom were beaten a year are certain to go. Bill Dietrich, lost to the Browns, is a Chi- White Sox possibility.

Rookie To Face Yankees

mmett O'Neil, of the Boston Red grabs the prize rookie assign- t of throwing against the Yan- in Boston and Preacher Roe, burgh newcomer, is named to up with Max Lanier, of the dinals, at St. Louis in the only hpaw duel. The only other -year man to get a starting as- ment is Bill Voiselle, who lost ty-one and won only ten for y City but has been named by ager Mel Ott to face the ves' Javery in New York before 00.

McCarthy's choice is Hank wy who has been with the club pring although Ernie Bonham, year's opener, and Spud Chand- re present but need more work. sie Bluege led off, as expected, ominating a knuckleball chuck- Johnny Niggeling, granddaddy e first day pitchers at 38. When takes the hill against the A's, 0 are expected to give Clark ith's stadium runnerup draw- onors to Cincinnati.

nny Vander Meer, who hurled of the '43 starters with a shutout of the Cards, is a navy now so the Cincinnati job goes ither Bucky Walters or Elmer le. The Cubs are banking on youngsters, either Hank Wyse Hanyzewski.

Trout Only 20-Game Winner

Smith succeeds Jim Bagby as the Indidans open in Chicago where Jimmy Dykes is expected to come up with Orval Grove or Dietrich before 6,000.

Detroit will have Paul Trout on the hill against the St. Louis Browns who will go with either Jack Kramer, former Brownie back from Toledo for another try, or Steve Sundra. The Tigers count on 22,000 to watch Trout, the only twenty-game winner who will be pitching tomorrow.

Brooklyn is still experimenting with its infield on the eve of the opener in Philadelphia but has picked Hal Gregg to do the throwing against the Phils' Dick Barrett. The latest Brooklyn inner defense had Luis Olmo on second and Gil English on third with Bill Hart benched and Dixie Walker returning to more familiar ground in the outfield.

ce Commission, Operators Meet

TIMORE, April 17 (AP)—The tion of whether the Maryland g Commission intended an nting of the "one per cent d" by Maryland's four major s was raised today by H. tenay Jenifer, newest com- on member, at a meeting to ss the tracks' report.

The "one per cent fund" is the per cent of the mutuel handle aside in 1938 by the racing ission to be used by the tracks improvements.

Today's meeting with track oper- was called to discuss what commission described as ques- ble items included by the in their accounting of ex- ures from the fund.

The commission on February 9 the operators of the four —Pimlico, Bowie, Havre de and Laurel—asking for such ounting. The tracks presumed commission felt such an ac- ing was due, representatives

The tracks asserted at today's that they had been placed unfavorable position by the through hints that there had something "underhand or lent" in the handling of the and said they felt someone clear them of any such sations.

allace To Pinch-Pitch r President Roosevelt

SHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—The ngton Senators, rated one of American League's best penn- ts, take on the Philadelphia ics, the circuit's poorest choice cess, in the season's opener tomorrow.

Vice President Henry A. Wallace, pitching for President Roose- ho is on a southern vacation, ss out the ball at 3 p. m.

The hurling chores will be taken by Johnny Niggeling, Senator acquired from the St. Louis last season, and by Luman of the A's.

In addition to Wallace, other es on hand for the opening ceremonies will include Sena- Alben Barkley, majority leader, Manpower Commissioner Paul Nutt, onetime college baseball who subbed for President sevelt on opening day last year, President William Harridge, of American League.

uthern Girls Share lf Medal Honors

HURST, N. C., April 17 (AP) Two southern girls tied for medal- ors today in the qualifying of the forty-second annual and South women's golf pionship.

Cubs Win Series With White Sox

CHICAGO, April 17 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs defeated the White Sox, 7 to 6, in their final spring series game today, with the White Sox winning the series, three games to two.

The Cubs belted Johnny Humphries and Buck Ross for ten hits, four of which they made during a four run splurge in the second inning at Humphries's expense. The Sox scored in the sixth and then took the lead with a four-run seventh inning which disposed of Paul Erickson, the third Cub pitcher, before he could get anybody out.

The Cubs tied it up with a run in the last of the seventh, fell behind as the Sox scored a lone marker in the eighth, and then won with two more tallies in the last of the eighth.

Undulator Captures Feature at Pimlico

BALTIMORE, April 17 (AP) —H. G. Bedwell's Undulator breezed in a length and a half ahead of Bomar stable's Little Wizard today to win the $2,000 Hygro purse, feature race of the day at the Pimlico track's program.

Third money went to Dr. G. T. Strother's Abrasion in the field of eight, which traveled six furlongs.

Undulator, 4-year-old son of Pompey, paid $5 after sharing the heavy support with Abrasion. A crowd of about 12,000 saw Apprentice Jockey Leonard Bowers bring home the winner.

Undulator took command in the opening furlong, shook off Trace Heart and then withstood a stretch challenge from Little Wizard.

Reds and Cubs Will Play before 27,000

CINCINNATI, April 17 (AP)—Cincinnati's Reds inaugurate their third wartime season of baseball tomorrow (at 2:30 p. m. C. W. T.) before an expected crowd of 27,000—the equal of last year's opening day turnout. Jimmy Wilson's Chicago Cubs will be the opposition.

It appeared today the weather would be kind and that Bucky Walters would pick up where Mayor James Garfield Stewart leaves things after pitching the traditional first ball.

Woodmen To Drill

Woodmen of the World tossers of the Rocking Chair Softball League will hold their first practice session of the season this evening at 6 o'clock at Community park, it was announced last night by Manager Brace Lee.

Grimes Hit High Mark

Oscar Grimes, Yankee utility infielder, was the third leading batter in the Middle Atlantic League in 1936. He hit .376 in 126 games with Zanesville.

Danny Litwhiler May Miss Cards' Opener with Bucs

Outfielder Ordered To Take Pre-Induction Exam Today

ST. LOUIS, April 17 (AP) — Outfielder Danny Litwhiler, of the Cardinals, may not be in the lineup when the National League champions open the season with the Pittsburgh Pirates tomorrow. He has been ordered to take his pre-induction physical examination at Jefferson Barracks.

Even if Litwhiler completes the service tests in time for the game, his case points up baseball's general player uncertainty because of the draft.

But whatever happens as time goes on, both the Cardinals and the Pirates have been fortunate so far to retain enough regular players to start the campaign with lineups approaching normal strength.

The Cardinals, in fact, appear relatively stronger than the 1943 titleholders who won the pennant by eighteen games.

Except for Veteran Johnny Hopp in center field in place of Harry Walker and Rookie Emil Verban taking over Lou Klein's position at second base, they have exactly the same first-string team that ran away from the field last year.

If Litwhiler cannot play, Manager Billy Southworth said he would use Pepper Martin in left field rather than Augie Bergamo since Pittsburgh is starting Preacher Roe, a left-hander. Southpaw Max Lanier, who had fifteen victories and seven defeats in 1943, gets the mound assignment for the Cardinals.

The Pirates, who finished fourth, have veteran players for every place, including such standouts as Bob Elliott, at third, Vince DiMaggio in center and Al Lopez behind the bat. Their main trouble is lack of experienced reserves but that's a problem also facing the Cardinals, although to somewhat lesser degree.

Mel Ott To Report April 24 for Draft Physical Examination

WEST POINT, N. Y., April 17 (AP) —Manager Mel Ott, of the New York Giants, was ordered today to report for his draft physical examination on April 24 at Camden, N. J., as a member of the Lakewood, N. J. contingent. The 35-year-old right fielder had requested a transfer from his Metairie, La., board when originally called during spring training at Lakewood.

The Giants also announced that Pitcher Harry Feldman would rejoin the team tomorrow. Feldman left the club a week ago to visit his sick wife at Fort Smith, Ark. He said then it was doubtful if he would return.

Rebekah Chapter Will Celebrate Anniversary

By CATHERINE O'ROURKE

MT. SAVAGE, April 17 — Wildey Rebekah Chapter No. 4 will celebrate the thirty-fifth anniversary Friday evening at a banquet in the recreation hall of the Methodist church, beginning at 6:30 o'clock.

Duerr Heads Club's Social Bowling Loop

The Club Recreation Social Bowling League, at its twenty-first semi-annual banquet at the Queen City hotel Sunday night, elected Adolph Duerr president for the 1944 summer season and the 1945 winter campaign.

R. J. "Dick" Stakem, retiring president, recalled that the loop has been operating continuously since the winter of 1933. Captain Joe Felton and his Fords were congratulated on winning the 1944 winter championship.

John Lafferty posted high average of 159 for seventy-three games. Duerr and Dick Payne, winners of the recent doubles tourney, also received an award.

Lindell's Homer Wins for Yankees

BROOKLYN, April 17 (AP) — Johnny Lindell's ninth inning home run with two on, off Rube Melton, gave the New York Yankees an 8 to 5 victory over Brooklyn today as both teams completed the training season. Bob Chipman worked the first five frames for the National Leaguers and four tallies were made off his southpaw pitching.

Spud Chandler, making his first mound appearance of the training period, pitched the first three frames for the Yankees and the only run scored off him resulted from Frenchy Bordagaray's left field drive for a homer in the opening round. Tiny Bonham followed Chandler and in his four innings yielded a run. Bill Zuber finished for the New Yorkers.

One Series Phils Won

Phillies' hopes for higher things in National League baseball thrills point to their 1943 achievement versus the Giants. The Phils won fourteen and lost eight versus the Ottmen. It was the first year since 1916 that the Phillies gained the season's edge over the Metropolites.

Racing Experts Unable To Agree On Derby Winner

Prediction that Fillies Would Be in Picture Is Exploded

By FRED HAYDEN

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP)—The Kentucky derby is less than three weeks away but the experts still are as far away from agreeing on the probable winner as they were when the candidates went into winter quarters last year.

One prediction already seems to have been exploded. The boys pointed out that the fillies finally might have something to say about Col. Matt Winn's run for the roses at Churchill Downs on May 6. The females did a pretty good job of making the colts look foolish in last season's two-year-old stakes.

But Brownell Combs's western glamour gal, Durazna, already has been declared out because her training schedule was impeded and Trainer Ben Jones, who conditions Warren Wright's horses, has not indicated that Twilight Tear and Miss Keeneland will be around for the big party.

Among the colts such as Jezrahel, Occupy (the leading money winning juvenile of 1943), Don Jose H. and Seeing Eye, the latter two from Mexico, either have been withdrawn or are not expected to face the barrier. And horses like Black Badge, Boy Knight and Grant Rice have failed to run like derby caliber.

Col. C. V. Whitney's Pukka Gin and George D. Widener's Platter were voted the top juvenile colts of 1943 but it's no cinch, especially in the case of the latter, that they will start. Pukka ran second in the recent Experimental handicap under derby weight of 126 pounds at Jamaica but there have been reports, denied by Trainer Andy Schuttinger, that the colt has a bad ankle.

Widener never has had a starter in the derby and his trainer, Bert Mullholland, has said the son of Pilate definitely will not make the trip to the Downs unless he is just right.

Foster, Ex-Major Loop Outfielder, Dies

PRINCETON, N. J., April 17 (AP)—Clarence F. Foster, 67, former outfielder with the New York Giants, Chicago White Sox and Washington Senators, died last night in Princeton hospital after a long illness.

An instructor in physical education at Princeton university since 1924, Foster had been at various times wrestling coach, coach of the 150-pound football team and trainer of the crew.

Foster was on the Chicago White Sox team that won the American League pennant in 1901 under the managership of Clark Griffith, now owner of the Washington Senators.

Malloy Steals Show at Dinner Honoring LaSalle's Champions

Wise-Cracking Referee Says Explorers "Played the Game to the Hilt"

Colorful Jerry Malloy, of Hoboken, N. J., one of the East's leading basketball referees, stole the show at the testimonial dinner honoring LaSalle high's Eastern States Catholic interscholastic basketball tournament champions last night at the Queen City hotel.

The wise-cracking Malloy, final speaker on the program, kept the 250 guests in an uproar but managed to stay serious long enough to congratulate Coach Bill Keegan and his Explorers for the splendid job turned in at Newport, R. I.

Malloy, top official of the Eastern States tourney, said that the LaSalle boys, who may have played indifferent ball here, went all out at Newport and "played the game to the hilt." He singled out Ray Shaffer, LaSalle ace who won the outstanding player award, for special praise and declared that he deserved the prize won the preceding year by George Geatz, of LaSalle, now in the service.

Introduced by Toastmaster Gene Gunning, sports editor of the Evening and Sunday Times, Hugh J. McGowan, Jr., of Newport, chairman of the Eastern States Catholic tournament's selection committee, congratulated the Explorers and conveyed to Cumberland the best wishes of Mayor Herbert McColley, of Newport. He read a letter from the brothers of De LaSalle, of Newport, to the brothers of LaSalle.

Keegan Presented Medal

On behalf of the tournament committee, McGowan presented to Coach Keegan a medal as a token of esteem. In closing, McGowan cited the impressive records made by the teams which met LaSalle in the tournament and wound up by saying that in his opinion, the best team won.

Others who made short talks were Walter L. "Bill" Bowers, of Allegany high, dean of local basketball coaches; John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh, Fort Hill high court mentor; Brother Gregory, former LaSalle athletic director; Father Kelly, of Washington, D. C., well known in this section, and Coach Keegan.

Bowers said that LaSalle's triumph at Newport contributes much to local basketball prestige and that indirectly, the Explorers' victory could be taken as a compliment to the calibre of ball played by all three city quints.

Cavanaugh went on record as favoring more public school tournaments of the type staged annually at Newport and he wished McGowan the best of luck for the success of ESCIT tournaments to come.

Many Take Bows

Father Kelly declared that in sports, it's not so much the result of contests that counts but the way games are played. "The spirit of America and democracy is reflected in games played here," he said. "While on the floor, the members of two teams are in there fighting as hard as they can but when the game is over, the boys are still friends."

Toastmaster Gunning, after being introduced by George McDermott, general chairman of the committee in charge of the dinner, called on the following to take bows:

William E. McDonald, James Orr and Hunter B. Helfrich, city commissioners; Victor Heisey, Fort Hill high principal; Miss Pearl Garbrick, director of the Fort Hill high band; Brother Justin, LaSalle athletic director; John McMullen, president of the Times and Alleganian Company; Bob Spangler, Jim Macfarlane, John Cox, "Auggie" Eichhorn, Don Whiteman, Francis Cosgrove, Glenn Hanna and Don McGill, members of the Western Maryland Interscholastic League all-star squad.

Later, Gunning introduced members of the LaSalle squad, and said that Norman Geatz, Jim Fahey's relief man at center, won the prize for the best foul-shooting record at Newport.

Jeff Heath Signs Cleveland Contract

CLEVELAND, April 17 (AP)—Jeff Heath, heavy-hitting Cleveland Indian outfielder, signed a contract for the 1944 season today and will join the Tribe in time for tomorrow's opener against the White Sox in Chicago.

Roger Peckinpaugh, Indian vice president, said Heath agreed to terms after a conference here today. Whether he appears in the opening day lineup "is strictly up to Manager Lou Boudreau," Peckinpaugh asserted.

Heath remained on his ship yards job in Seattle until Friday, when he started for Cleveland.

Newspapermen Will Talk Politics At Radio Forum

Candidates and Issues of the Campaign Will Be Discussed

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, April 17. (AP)—It will be politics, particularly the 1944 presidential campaign and the possible candidates, which comes in for a discussion preview on American forum via MBS on Tuesday in its usual forty-five minutes at 9:30.

To keep things rolling there will be six Washington newspapermen before the microphone as representative of the various shades of political opinion.

Frederic March, of stage and screen, has agreed to help out in Norman Corwin's weekly script on CBS at 10. He has agreed to take the leading role in "Untitled," described as a case history of an average American soldier who dies in battle.

Anniversary Event

Another Tuesday night CBS Dramatic feature, "Romance," will be celebrating its first anniversary when it goes on at 11:30. That's the reason there will be a repeat of the radio adaptation of "Jane Eyre."

Still more drama will be available, this one also at 11:30, in the NBC Words at War book program. Scheduled is "The Silence of the Sea," a novel written in Nazi-occupied France and declared to have been smuggled out for publication in this country.

Frieder Weissman takes the podium again to guest-conduct Sinfonietta on MBS at 11:30. Three numbers on the program . . . Archie alias Ed Gardner is getting Duffy's Tavern of the Blue at 8:30 all ready for the guest appearance of Charles Laughton, who insists he has been in better places.

Some Early Offerings

Japs Planned War Many Years Ago

Hedging on Kellogg Agreement Revealed

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP) — In the very act of signing a treaty outlawing war, the Japanese government took care fifteen years ago to leave a diplomatic door open for its attack on Pearl Harbor.

Japanese hedging on the Kellogg renunciation of war pact revealed in two volumes of 1929 diplomatic documents published by the State department.

The hitherto secret papers also disclosed that in the same year, the United States and Britain agreed to pare down their naval forces as a step to promote peace. A tentative proposal under which neither nation would build bases in the hemisphere in which the other is situated also was considered at the Rapidan, Va., conference between President Hoover and British Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald.

MacDonald, in an exchange of memoranda, apparently agreed to the proposal at that time, but later his secretary advised the secretary of state that the plan was not considered workable. There were no further papers relating to the subject.

The papers showed the public for the first time the diplomatic contortions the apanese went through to keep warships out of mandated Marshall island ports, including Kwajalein and Maloelap, atolls now figuring in the American offensive across the Central Pacific.

While professing devotion to the principles of the treaty against war, negotiated by then Secretary of State Frank Kellogg, the Japanese claimed that a clause committing signatory nations "in the names of their respective peoples" was against the constitution of Japan.

Eyes of children usually do not move in unison until three months after birth.

Washington County Apple Supply Low

HAGERSTOWN, Md., April 17 (AP)—Washington county orchardists report that the local apple supply, already critically low, may be exhausted before the new mid-summer crop could be harvested.

Most apples are selling currently at eleven and one half cents per pound. County growers commented that prices were the highest they had ever known.

They said first relief was expected to come when the transparent crop appears around the first of July.

Winter Wheat Gains

COLLEGE PARK, Md., April 18 (AP)—Maryland's 1944 winter wheat crip is estimated by the Maryland crop reporting service at 7,600,000 bushels, or fifty-five per cent more than the 4,913,000 busheds produced last year.

There are 281,000,000 acres of state and privately owned forest land in the United States.

There are at least thirteen different kinds of maple trees in the United States.

Card of Thanks

We are taking this means to thank our friends and neighbors for the kindness extended to us during the recent illness and death of Mrs. Elizabeth W. Michael. We especially thank Rev. James L. Robertson, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, and Rev. E. B. Caplinger, pastor of United Brethren Church who conducted the funeral services. Also those who donated the use of their cars for the funeral and sent floral tributes.
The family of Mrs. Elizabeth W. Michael. 4-17-1t-TN

We are taking this means to thank our friends and neighbors for the kindness extended to us during the illness and following the death of Nancy Lee Horner, Westernport. Also those who sent floral tributes and donated the use of their automobiles for the funeral.
MR. AND MRS. WALTER J. HORNER AND FAMILY. 4-17-1t-TN

We take this means to thank our friends and neighbors who were so kind to us during our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved wife, daughter and sister, Mrs. Agnes Cavanaugh O'Rourke. We also wish to thank those who sent floral tributes and Mass Cards, and loaned cars for the funeral.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our son Jackie A. Knapp who departed from us two years ago April 18th, 1942.

The blow was hard, the shock severe,
We never thought his death so near,
Only those who have lost can tell
The pain of parting without farewell.
He little thought when leaving home
That he would never return.
That he in death would sleep
God knows how much we miss him,
Never shall his memory fade,
Loving thoughts will ever wander
To the spot where he is laid.

Greatly missed by his mother, Mrs. Carrie Knapp and grandmother, Mrs. Mary Heier. 4-18-1t-N

Tanning Company Property Is Sold To Lumber Firm

Brewing Company Acquires Portion; Storage Space To Be Rented

Sale of the major portion of the property of the Keystone Tanning and Glue Company (formerly the Union Tanning Company) to the Buchanan Lumber Company was disclosed yesterday in a deed filed for record in circuit court. The remaining part of the property was sold to the Queen City Brewing Company.

The lumber company purchased that part of the property located between Valley street bridge and the Baltilmore and Ohio railroad viaduct, while the brewing company bought the land between the viaduct and Market street. Total consideration was about $12,000, the lumber company paying approximately $10,000, revenue stamps attached to the documents indicated.

On March 15, the property eventually bought by the lumber company was purchased by Abe Feldstein, local junk dealer, at a cost indicated by revenue stamps to be about $8,500. Feldstein then sold the property to the lumber company.

Much Floor Space

All buildings and improvements on the property are contained in the approximately three-acre area bought by the lumber company. The remaining portion that was bought by the brewing company has no improvements.

Last night, Alexander R. Buchanan, president of the lumber company, said the property contains about two acres of floor space with a second story increasing that area to four acres.

The lumber company, he added, proposes to rent this space for storage and small industries and at the same time retain enough for its own storage needs. Repairs, he said, have been completed.

Expansion Possible

A part of the newly acquired property also will be used as an assembly plant for millwork, Buchanan related, and he pointed out that it may be used for expanion of the lumber company after the war. Present facilities, he said, are crowded.

The brewing company has no immediate plans for the property it has acquired.

Terms of the deed to the tanning company property, once one of the largest operations of the United States Leather Company, provide that no part of the lands or premises shall be used for tanning leather or other purposes pertaining to tanning for twenty years.

The tanning company reserved the right to the bark and other personal property and can remove it from the premises at any time within ninety days from March 15.

The instrument transferring the property from the Keystone Tanning and Glue Company to Feldstein, is signed by Richard H. Zinn, president of the company, and H. A. Ketcham, assistant secretary.

Can Remove Personal Property

In deeding the property to the lumber company, Feldstein reserved the right for one year for himself and the tanning company to enter the premises and remove personal property.

Excepted from the property deeded to the brewing company is all coal, minerals, oil, gas or clay that may be in or under the ground and which may be discovered at a later date.

The property was once owned by the Ladew family but more than fifty years ago was sold to the United States Leather Company. It later was operated by the Union Tanning Company and then by the Keystone Tanning and Glue Company. Both, however, are subsidiaries of the United States Leather Company.

The tanning company plant shut down in 1938 following a strike. Reports were that it would be opened for operations again but the decision to shut down permanently came after the firm experienced difficulty in getting hides.

Farrady Post Votes To Sponsor Next Deaf Clinic in Cumberland

Farrady Post No. 24, American Legion, last evening went on record as sponsoring the next prevention of deafness clinic to be held at the headquarters of the Allegany County League for Crippled Children.

The cost of sponsoring a clinic is $104 for the services of Dr. M. L. Breitstein and his wife, clinicians, their transportation from and to Baltimore and the cost of transporting equipment used in conducting the clinics.

These clinics are part of the American Legion's child welfare program.

John R. Kelly, Mountain district vice-commander; Wesley H. Abrams, district inspector, and Paul Weisenmiller, district child welfare chairman, attended the meeting.

Motorist Is Jailed On Driving Charges

Isaac M. Bradburn, Lonaconing, was held in the county jail last night on two charges of violating the state motor vehicle law, and state police said he will be given a hearing Wednesday before Magistrate Roy S. Bowman at Cresaptown.

Bradburn was arrested at 6 p. m. a short distance west of the state police barracks at LaVale by State Trooper Milton G. Hart.

RALLY SPEAKER—Beecher E. Hess, of Washington, D. C., editor of the Townsend Flash and director of the Townsend Washington Bureau, will be one of the principal speakers at a rally of Townsend Clubs Nos. 2 and 7 at a meeting to be held in SS. Peter and Paul hall Wednesday night.

Hess and Woodson Will Address Two Townsend Clubs

Meeting Will Be Held in SS. Peter and Paul Hall Wednesday

Beecher E. Hess, editor of the Townsend Flash and director of the Townsend Washington Bureau, who has been identified with the Townsend organization for nine years, will address a joint meeting of Townsend clubs Nos. 2 and 7, in SS. Peter and Paul hall, Fayette street, tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

Hess has been legislative representative for the Townsend National organization in Washington for the last six years. Prior to that he was a professor of economics, and also served as an executive and organizer in various chambers of commerce in the Central West. For five years he was president of the Norwood, Ohio, city board of finance.

George Woodson, national representative for the Townsend organization, in West Virginia and Maryland, will speak on the Townsend old age pension plan. Father Fabian, O.F.M. Cap., of SS. Peter and Paul church will give the invocation.

I. C. Brant, chairman of the committee on arrangements announces that a ham and oyster supper will be served from 5 to 8 p. m., to be followed by a floor show by students of Miss Mary K. Steckman. Donald Ort will play piano selections and entertainment will be presented by Dave, David, Bob and Mary, members of Cowboy Ray's band wagon radio program.

Needs of Youth Are Discussed By Social Group

Co-ordinating Council Calls for Adequate Playground Program

The social and recreational needs of the children of Cumberland and Allegany county were discussed at a meeting sponsored by the Allegany Co-Ordinating Council of Social Agencies held last evening at 7:30 o'clock in the City hall auditorium.

Representatives of church groups, young people's organizations, city and county officials, Police Boys club and the Boy Scouts of America, were guests of the council at the special meeting arranged by Miss Winifred Greene, Miss Mildred Willison and Miss Loretto McGeady.

Movies Are Shown

Two motion pictures, "Children of Mars" and "Youth in Crisis" were shown at the meeting. The documentary films illustrated typical youth problems which have grown out of the war and what certain communities are doing to solve the problem.

The panel discussion on the social and recreational needs of this section, was led by Miss McGeady, principal of Centre Street elementary school. Others who took part in the discussion were:

Panel Discussion Held

Everett Johnson, general secretary of the Central Y.M.C.A.; the Rev. Joyce W. Russell, assistant pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church; Miss Mildred Willison, county elementary supervisor; Mrs. William A. Eisenberger, representing the League of Church Women.

Horace B. Davis, editor of the Western Maryland edition of the CIO News; Mayor Thomas S. Post; Miss Irene Olson, executive secretary of the Allegany County Welfare Association, Mrs. A. M. Lichtenstein, county chairman of the Allegany county Home Nursing group, and Sheriff David M. Steele.

Representatives of Allegany and Fort Hill high schools also took part in the panel discussion.

The council asserted that some areas of the county are not adequately served by playgrounds and pointed out the need for complete staffs in centers now established.

Rape Indictment Is Returned by April Grand Jury

Assault with Intent To Murder Charge Listed by Jurors

One indictment for rape and another for assault with intent to murder are among twenty-five indictments placed on the open docket in circuit court yesterday out of thirty-six returned Saturday by the April term of grand jury.

Eight indictments were returned on charges of possession of alcoholic beverages without a license, eleven were filed on charges of selling beer to minors, three were returned on charges of forgery, one for burglary, one for larceny and one for maintaining a gaming table. The remaining eleven indictments have not yet been placed on open docket.

Indicted for rape on the complaint of Dora Elizabeth Spiker, 20, is Milton Leasure. There are three counts to the indictment, one charging rape, the second assault with intent to rape and the third assault.

On Way Home

State's Attorney Morgan C. Harris said Miss Spiker had been to Billy Goat inn, on Savage mountain, and was being driven to her home early in the morning when the alleged attack occurred.

Leasure first parked his car near the young woman's home in Consolidation Village, the state's attorney said, adding that after she objected Leasure drove her to an isolated spot along the Midlothian road and there attacked her.

Harry Schmerer, Oldtown, was indicted on a charge of assaulting Robert Shipe, of near Oldtown, with intent to murder him. The two men, the state's attorney said, got into a dispute over a property line and Shipe consequently was struck over the head with a weapon allegedly wielded by Schmerer. Shipe suffered a head injury and was treated in a local hospital. The incident occurred last month.

Valued at $38,01

Clayton Leroy Whitmore, Joseph Evans, Jr., and Edwin Anson Paul were indicted on a charge of burglarizing the store of George Froelich, Route 40. Merchandise valued at $38.01 was taken from the establishment.

Eugene Edwin Grabenstein was indicted on a charge of larceny of an automobile owned by Roscoe McElfish on January 8.

The forgery indictments were returned against Raymond E. Cleggett, William Richard Sirbaugh and Floyd Johnson. All three of the men are accused of forgong checks of the Allegany County Welfare Board.

Liquor Law Violations

Eight indictments were returned against Frank and Larry Orbello, operators of a beer parlor in the 100 block North Mechanoc street, on charges of selling alcoholic beverages to minors. Three indictments on similar charges were returned against Frank Orbello.

Seven indictments were returned against Marvin "Hook" Treiber on charges of selling and possessing alcoholic beverages without a license. A similar indictment was returned against Robert Shrout. An indictment also was returned against Treiber and Shrout accusing them of maintaining a slot machine at the so-called "social club" police say they operate on North Mechanic street.

Recreational Group Of Frostburg Elects Kreitzburg President

FROSTBURG, April 17 — The Frostburg Recreational Association, at a meeting held this evening in Firemen's hall, Frostburg, elected F. Earl Kreitzburg as president of the group for the ensuing year. Other officers selected were:

Prof. Harry E. Odgers, vice president; William J. Elvin, treasurer, and Richard T. Rizer, secretary.

Members of the board of directors of the association will consist of the elected officers and the following:

The Rev. Francis E. Montgomery, Guy Mallow, Mrs. Edward J. Ryan, Dr. John Cooper, Dr. Stanley Kerns, City Commissioner Kenneth Crowe, Dr. Emily Baker, Martin Hartig, Mrs. Marie Winters, Miss Ellen Harvey and Thomas H. Morgan.

Five Youths Will Leave For Navy Examinations

Three Fort Hill high school seniors will be included in the group of five youths who will leave here this afternoon for the Baltimore naval recruiting station for physical examination and possible enlistment in the navy, Chief Petty Officer Walter B. Warmee, navy recruiter, announced yesterday.

The Fort Hill seniors, James B. Grabenstein, 31 Massachusetts avenue; Leon G. England, 314 South Cedar street, and William R. McCoy, 35 Mary street, will be sworn in and placed on inactive duty until their graduation in June.

Two 17-year-old youths, Joseph J. Inskeep, Barton, and Howard L. McDonald, Romney, will be included in the group.

Committee To Meet

A meeting of the Blood Bank committee of Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, will be held today at 8 p. m., in the Legion home. Jesse E. Hopcraft is chairman of the committee.

Father Luke Golla Will Conclude Three-day Triduum This Evening

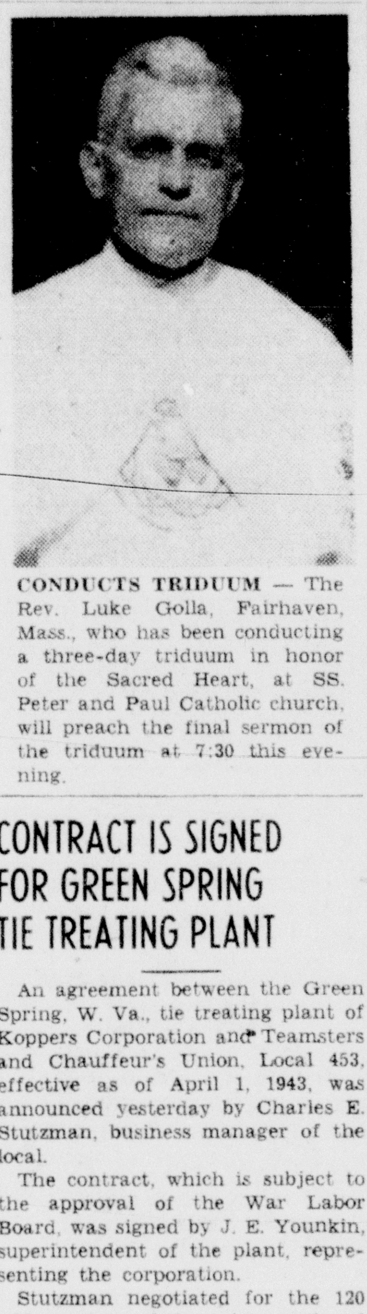
Speaks at 7:30 o'Clock in SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church

The Rev. Luke Golla, Fairhaven, Mass., will speok on, "Reparation for All the Insults Committed Against the Sacred Heart of Jesus," in the closing service of the triduum in honor of the Sacred Heart, that he is conducting in SS. Peter and Paul Catholic church at 7:30 o'clock this evening.

Father Golla, member of the Congregation of the Sacred Hearts of Jesus and Mary, has for the past three years, been visiting various parishes, working for the enthronement of the Sacred Heart in the homes. His work, he said, is based on religion of the individual, carried through the family to society in general. Besides this type of work members of the congregation also are missionaries and parish priests.

Last evening Father Golla spoke on "Enthronement of Jesus in the Homes." He also announced that either the Rev. Irenaeus Reinl, pastor, or one of the other priests, will visit the homes, when requested for an enthronement ceremony, after which the families will hold private devotions together once a month.

Sunday evening the topic of the sermon was "The Purpose of Man Here on Earth," it was based on St. Paul's writings dealing with the individual as a living temple of the Holy Ghost, and urged the congregation to remain one with Christ.



CONDUCTS TRIDUUM — The Rev. Luke Golla, Fairhaven, Mass., who has been conducting a three-day triduum in honor of the Sacred Heart, at SS. Peter and Paul Catholic church, will preach the final sermon of the triduum at 7:30 this evening.

State Police Continue Investigation of "Chicken Feast"

Maryland state police are continuing their investigation into the taking of nine chickens for an alleged "chicken feast" in Cresaptown March 26. Oliver Stottlemeyer, 22, of Cresaptown, has admitted the actual taking of the chickens, state police reported last evening.

Three other Cresaptown men who were questioned in connection with the larceny of the chickens were released yesterday pending the outcome of the complete investigation, according to state police.

CONTRACT IS SIGNED FOR GREEN SPRING TIE TREATING PLANT

An agreement between the Green Spring, W. Va., tie treating plant of Koppers Corporation and Teamsters and Chauffeur's Union, Local 453, effective as of April 1, 1943, was announced yesterday by Charles E. Stutzman, business manager of the local.

The contract, which is subject to the approval of the War Labor Board, was signed by J. E. Younkin, superintendent of the plant, representing the corporation.

Stutzman negotiated for the 120 odd members of the union employed in the wood preserving unit which treats railroad ties.

The working agreement, the third negotiated at the plant, contains provisions for overtime after eight hours, a pay increase of five cents an hour for hourly rated employes and a five per cent increase for piece workers, one week vacation, a one-week safety bonus and the check off, Stutzman said.

Profit of $213,171.23 on Bond Sales Reported by Sinking Fund Trustees

Council Will Hear Objections against Proposed Bowling Alley Today

Business mostly of a routine nature occupied the attention of the mayor and city council at its weekly meeting yesterday in the city hall, which was highlighted by a report of the sinking fund trustees showing a profit of $213,171.23 from sale of bonds in the fiscal year ending March 31.

The trustees, Charles G. Holzshu and John H. Mosner, reported that they sold bonds with a par value of $625,000 and a book value of $645,211.87 for $853,383.10. Bonds in the fund have a book value of $1,533,600 and all but $21,000 are in War Savings or United States Treasury bonds.

The report shows $1,094.47 in cash and $1,153,600 in bonds at the start of the last fiscal year. Income included $64,200.47 from the city levy; $56,302.29 excess water funds; $35,018.07, interest and $233,383.10 premiums.

Expenses Are Listed

Expenses were listed at $16,407 for postage and insurance; $43.20 safe deposit box rent; $2,009.57 accrued interest; $1,939.07 premiums paid and $75 for legal fee. Cash remaining is listed at $5,767.74.

George E. Kelso, who several weeks ago made application for a permit to operate bowling alleys at 123 South Liberty street, informed the council that he has been given permission by the War Production Board to make the necessary changes in the second floor of the Kelso garage. Ralph L. Rizer, city engineer, told the mayor and council that arrangements have been made to meet city building requirements and that only the matter of licensing remains to be decided.

A special meeting of the mayor and council was set for 10 a. m. today at which time objections of the Wolford Funeral Home and other residents living near the garage will be heard after which the council will decide whether to grant Kelso a permit to install and operate the bowling alleys.

A proposal that provision be made in the South End for collection of water rent was made to the council in a letter signed by B. Fay Thompson and John M. Stotler. They suggested Keech's drug store, Pierce's cigar store and Storer's confectionary as possible sites.

Refunds Are Approved

The letter stated that such an arrangement would make it more convenient for residents of South Cumberland to pay water rent. The letter was referred to William J. Edwards, water commissioner, for a report on the proposal.

A refund of $4.50 was ordered paid to Russell C. Perdew, 2 Eastern road, for overpayment of water rent. J. A. and Marie E. Glick, 221 Hay street, were refunder $7.57 for the same reason.

A request from Lt. Col. Byron Bird for detailed information on sewer and water lines in the downtown section was referred to Ralph L. Rizer, city engineer. The material is for use in the flood control project.

An application of Raymond Parker to transfer his pool room and soft drink establishment from 501 to 437 Virginia avenue was referred to the Police department.

The resignation of Charles F. Burke, Jr., as assistant tax collector, effective April 14, was accepted. Burke was recently named collector.

Airport fees collected last week totaled $171.37 as a result of twenty-six planes landing at the airport.

Water consumption for the week ending Sunday was 77,386,000 gallons. The daily average was 11,386,000 gallons as compared to 10,130,000 for the same period last year. Lake Gordon is two inches below the crest and Lake Gordon one foot, four inches below.

The Police department was instructed to investigate the complaint of Ada Lewis Twigg, 114 Harrison street, that noise from the Goodrich store, 112 South Centre street, is troublesome at night. She said there is considerable hammering and dropping of heavy rims and that trucks whose tires are being retreaded are parked in an adjoining alley.

In a letter Franklin H. Ankeney complained of rough spots on the Market street bridge over the Western Maryland railway. Rizer and Commissioner Hunter B. Helfrich will investigate. Helfrich also said electrical work will be checked. Charles Z. Heskett, city attorney, proposed that something be done about the subway under the Baltimore and Ohio railroad tracks on Baltimore street, after declaring that it is in terrible condition.

Another complaint was made by Harry G. Miller, 827 Virginia avenue, who said uncovered ash and garbage trucks are scattering dust and refuse over the city. He also proposed that a subway and not an overhead bridge be built to provide safe crossing of the B. and O.

Judge Sloan Resumes Practice of Law

Former Chief Judge D. Lindley Sloan, who retired from the bench on April 3, has resumed the practice of law in association with William A. Gunter, with offices at 7 Washington street.

The retired jurist takes up the practice of law again in an office directly across the street from the site of the office in which he started practice in 1895. The building at that time also bore the number of 7 Washington street. It was razed in 1902. Prior to Judge Sloan's occupancy of the building it was the law office of David W. Sloan, from 1876 to 1895 when he was elected to the associate judgeship.

Walter C. Capper, whom Governor O'Conor named to succeed Judge Sloan, will be sworn into office next Saturday, it was learned yesterday.

Permit Is Issued

Frank Roadcap obtained a permit yesterday from the city engineer for the construction of a stone foundation under the dwelling on lot No. 5, Golden's lane, off Willow Brook road. The cost is estimated at $100.

Beall and Post To Speak at VFW Joint Ceremony

Installation and Dance Will Be Held Saturday in Queen City Hotel

Rep. J. Glenn Beall, of the Sixth Maryland Congressional district, and Mayor Thomas S. Post will speak at the joint installation ceremonies for newly elected officers of Henry Hart Post No. 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars, on Saturday at 8 p. m, in the ballroom of the Queen City hotel.

George Titters, Maryland department commander; Frank Wiper, department junior vice commander and Reginald Murphy, department adjutant and quartermaster, also have accepted invitations to attend the exercises at which Thomas K. Whalley, adjutant of the local post, will preside.

The newly elected officers to be installed are headed by Mrs. Catherine O'Toole, president of the auxiliary, and James W. Beacham, post commander.

There will be no banquet and instead the post is donating the estimated cost of $400 to the American Red Cross.

Following installation exercises, dancing will hold sway at 9 p. m. to 1 a. m., with music by the Yankee orchestra.

James E. Stemple will conduct his final meeting as commander of the post this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Commander Beacham will take over his new post on May 2.

Young Woman Is Hurt when Auto Runs into Ditch

Miss Nellie Somerville, Flintstone, Is Admitted to Hospital

Miss Nellie Somerville, 19, Flintstone, was admitted to Allegany hospital last night for treatment of injuries suffered at 8:25 o'clock when the automobile in which she was riding with her brother, Pvt. Joseph Somerville, 23, Fort Jackson, S. C., crashed into a ditch at Nave's crossroads, east of Cumberland.

Hospital attaches said the young woman suffered a laceration on the left side of her forehead and a fractured right collarbone. Her condition is not believed to be serious.

According to State Trooper Graydon S. Dunlap, Pvt. Somerville was driving toward his home from Cumberland and had just passed an automobile operated by Dr. John A. Stehley, Cumberland dentist, when the accident happened.

Dr. Stehley was making a left turn at the crossroads to drive to Bedford road when the car operated by the soldier passed, Dunlap said. Although the soldier's car, borrowed from a friend, Marshall Imes, Flintstone, had passed the dentist's automobile, Somerville was unable to bring it back on the highway, Dunlap explained.

The car crashed into the ditch, the trooper added, but did not overturn. A passing motorist brought Miss Somerville, her brother and a companion to the hospital.

No charges were entered against the soldier, Dunlap said, because of existing circumstances. He said the soldier, no doubt, was driving too fast, but he explained that his furlough ends today and that he expects to be shipped overseas shortly.

OPA Attorneys Clarify Beer Price Ceilings

Prices Increased Prior to April 1 Can't Be Raised Again

Tavern keepers and restaurant owners who increased the price of beer prior to April 1, 1944, can't raise it again after that date Charles G. Smith chairman of the local price panel was advised yesterdaw by Bridgewater M. Arnold and G. Everett Siebert, OPA price attorneys of the Maryland district office, Baltimore.

Those who upped the price when the tax went into effect on November 1, 1942, and increased the price again after the latest federal excise tax became effective April 1 1944, are violating regulations and their cases will be subject to investigation. They are advised to roll back the prices to where they were before April 1.

Complaints have reached the price panel to the effect that several local tavern keepers have jumped the price of a bottle of beer from 10 to 15 cents since April 1. This procedure is strictly against regulations, the OPA warns.

The district office's legal advisers give the following opinion relative to the increase in beer prices:

"Retailers (other than eating or drinking places subject to Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation 2-1).

Aggregate Less Than Cent

"(a) The aggregate total of the November 1, 1942 and April 1, 1944 excise taxes permitted increases of three-fourth cents on a 12-ounce bottle of beer.

"(b) As three-fourth cents is not less than one-half cent the retailer is permitted to add to either his October 1 to 15, 1941 selling price or his March, 1942 ceiling price the sum of one cent on the sale of a single bottle. On sales of more than one bottle he multiplies three-fourth cents by the number of bottles sold and if the amount results in a fractional cent he may, if the fraction is one-half cent or more, raise the total to the next highest cent.

"For example: Two bottles (three-fourths times two equals one and one-half cents)—Two cents; three bottles (three-fourths times three equals two and one-fourth cents)—Two cents.

Boost One-Fourth Cent

"(c) If prior to April 1, 1944 the retailer of a twelve ounce bottle of beer had already added to his base price the increase then permitted to cover the excise tax, then on and after April 1, 1944 he is only permitted to add the difference between such prior increase and the increase permitted after April 1, 1944. The April 1 permitted increase only exceeds the prior permitted increase by one-fourth cents on a twelve ounce bottle and the total of the two increases is only three-fourth cents on a bottle.

"For example, if the retailer's base price was ten cents per bottle and he added one-cent to such base price to cover the permitted one-half cent, November 1942 permitted increase, he must continue to sell at eleven cents as the total of the permitted increases does not exceed one cent. He cannot add three-fourths cents to the eleven cent price and sell at twelve cents."

As the regulations now stand, no addition may be made to the base period (April 4 to 10, 1943) ceiling price of an eating or drinking place which is subject to the provisions of Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation 2-1, to cover the April 1, 1944 increase in excise tax on bottled beer.

Must Maintain Prices

Supplementary order 80 permits the restaurant to add one cent to its ceiling price for eight ounces or more of beer sold on draught. There is no provision for a permitted increase on the sale of bottled beer. Therefore, eating and drinking places, must continue to maintain their April 4-10, 1943 base period prices for bottled beer.
